PURPOSE OF THIS PUBLICATION

This publication provides a description of those programs and activities of Baylor University which are indicated in the title and text. It is not an offer to make a contract.

The administration and faculty of Baylor University believe that the educational and other programs of Baylor University, including those described herein, are effective and valuable, and that they provide skills and/or understanding in keeping with the subject matter of the program.

The ultimate results of programs offered, however, in terms of achievement, employment, professional licensing, or other measure, are also dependent on factors outside the programs, such as the personality and energy of the students, governmental or institutional regulations, and market conditions. Therefore, except as specifically stated herein, Baylor University makes no representation or contract that following a particular course or curriculum will result in specific achievement, employment or qualification for employment, admission to degree programs, or licensing for particular professions or occupations.

It is sometimes necessary or appropriate to change the programs offered. Baylor University retains the right to terminate or change any and all other aspects of its educational and other programs at any time without prior notice.

NOTICE OF NONDISCRIMINATORY POLICY

Baylor University does not unlawfully discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, ethnicity, citizenship, immigration status, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, age, genetic information or the refusal to submit to a genetic test, past, current or prospective service in the uniformed military service, or any other characteristic protected under applicable federal, Texas, or local law ("Protected Characteristics"). These Protected Characteristics are interpreted consistently with relevant and applicable law.

Baylor University admits students of any Protected Characteristic to all the rights, privileges, programs, and activities generally accorded or made available to students at the school. It does not unlawfully discriminate on the basis of any Protected Characteristic in employment or in the administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarship and loan programs, and athletic and other school-administered programs.

The University is controlled by a predominantly Baptist Board of Regents and is operated within the Christian-oriented aims and ideals of Baptists. Baylor is also affiliated with the Baptist General Convention of Texas, a cooperative association of autonomous Texas Baptist churches. Baylor's commitment to equal opportunity and respect of others does not undermine the validity and effect of the constitutional and statutory protections for its religious liberty, including, without limitation, the religious organization exemption under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the religious exemption to Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, and the Free Exercise Clause of the First Amendment to the United States Constitution, among others.

As a religiously controlled institution of higher education, the University prescribes standards of personal conduct. While the University does not discriminate on the basis of sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, per se, it does regulate conduct that is inconsistent with the religious values and beliefs that are integral to its Christian faith mission. See the Baylor Statement on Human Sexuality at <https://www.baylor.edu/risk/doc.php/343044.pdf>. This policy statement is neither intended to discourage, nor is it in fact applicable to, any analytical discussion of law and policy issues involved, or to discussions of any recommendations for changes in existing law. Discussions of these matters are both practiced and are welcomed within our curriculum.

EQUAL ACCESS TO UNIVERSITY EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS

Baylor University provides equal access to all University educational programs to every qualified student. However, if any student requires special personal services or equipment, the student will be responsible for the expenses thereof. This policy includes the expense of providing personal tutors, personal attendants, medical technicians, and so forth. The Office of Access and Learning Accommodation will assist such student in communicating with the proper community or governmental agency to secure any available financial assistance to meet his or her needs.

DIRECTORY INFORMATION

Directory information includes: name, address, telephone number, e-mail address, dates of attendance, level and classification, University ID card photograph, previous institution(s) attended, field(s) of study, awards, scholarships, honors, degree(s) conferred and date(s), full-time/part-time status, earned hours, expected graduation date or degree candidacy, thesis and dissertation titles and advisors, past and present participation in officially recognized sports and activities, physical factors of athletes (age, height, weight), and date and place of birth.

LEGAL NOTICE

If you are applying for admission to a program that may prepare you for an occupational license and/or if you later decide to change to such a program, Texas law requires that Baylor notify you of your potential eligibility to obtain a license due to prior criminal convictions. For more information, visit <https://www.baylor.edu/admissions/index.php?id=948617>.

STUDENT AID INFORMATION

Financial aid programs available to law students include academic scholarships, grants, Federal Work-Study, federal educational loans, and alternative loans through various private lenders. Students interested in consideration for financial aid should complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) online at www.fafsa.gov. Visit the Student Financial Services website at <https://www.baylor.edu/sfs/> for additional information regarding the financial aid application process.

The provisions of this catalog do not constitute a contract, expressed or implied, between Baylor University and any applicant, student, student's family, faculty, or staff member. Baylor University reserves the right to withdraw courses at any time, or change fees, tuition, rules, calendar, curricula, degree programs, degree requirements, graduation procedures, and any other requirement affecting students. Changes will become effective at the time the proper authorities so determine, and the changes will apply to both prospective students and those already enrolled. This catalog is a general information publication only, and it is not intended to, nor does it contain all regulations that relate to students.

UNIVERSITY MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of Baylor University is to educate men and women for worldwide leadership and service by integrating academic excellence and Christian commitment within a caring community.

Chartered in 1845 by the Republic of Texas and affiliated with the Baptist General Convention of Texas, Baylor is both the state's oldest institution of higher learning and the world's largest Baptist university. Established to be a servant of the church and of society, Baylor seeks to fulfill its calling through excellence in teaching and research, in scholarship and publication, and in service to the community, both local and global. The vision of its founders and the ongoing commitment of generations of students and scholars are reflected in the motto inscribed on the Baylor seal: Pro Ecclesia, Pro Texana - For Church, For Texas.

Pro Ecclesia. Baylor is founded on the belief that God's nature is made known through both revealed and discovered truth. Thus, the University derives its understanding of God, humanity, and nature from many sources: the person and work of Jesus Christ, the biblical record, and Christian history and tradition, as well as scholarly and artistic endeavors. In its service to the church, Baylor's pursuit of knowledge is strengthened by the conviction that truth has its ultimate source in God and by a Baptist heritage that champions religious liberty and freedom of conscience. Without imposing religious conformity, Baylor expects the members of its community to support its mission. Affirming the value of intellectually informed faith and religiously informed education, the University seeks to provide an environment that fosters spiritual maturity, strength of character, and moral virtue.

Pro Texana. Integral to its commitment to God and to the church is Baylor's commitment to society. Whereas that society in the mid-1800s was limited to Texas, today Baylor's sphere of influence is indeed the world. The University remains dedicated to the traditional responsibilities of higher education—dissemination of knowledge, transmission of culture, search for new knowledge, and application of knowledge—while recognizing the global proportions these responsibilities have assumed. Moreover, within the context of an ethnically and culturally diverse community, Baylor strives to develop responsible citizens, educated leaders, dedicated scholars, and skilled professionals who are sensitive to the needs of a pluralistic society. To those ends, Baylor provides expanded opportunities for civic education and for church and community service at home and abroad.

Pro Ecclesia, Pro Texana. Baylor University is committed to excellence at the undergraduate, graduate, and professional levels. Within the undergraduate programs, the University seeks to familiarize students with the principal bodies of knowledge, cultural viewpoints, belief systems, and aesthetic perspectives that affect the world in which they live. Within the graduate and the professional programs, the University provides advanced educational opportunities to develop ethical and capable scholars and practitioners who contribute to their academic disciplines, professional fields, and society. Baylor encourages all of its students to cultivate their capacity to think critically, to assess information from a Christian perspective, to arrive at informed and reasoned conclusions, and to become lifelong learners. Beyond the intellectual life, the University pursues the social, physical, ethical, and spiritual development of each student.

Aware of its responsibility as the largest Baptist educational institution in the world and as a member of the international community of higher learning, Baylor promotes exemplary teaching, encourages innovative and original research, and supports professional excellence in various specialized disciplines. Advancing the frontiers of knowledge while cultivating a Christian world-view, Baylor holds fast to its original commitment - to build a university that is Pro Ecclesia, Pro Texana.

Baylor Law Mission Statement

Baylor Law School strives, in the context of a Christian commitment, to integrate excellence in teaching and scholarship to develop lawyers who are able to practice law with competence, serve with compassion, and provide effective and ethical leadership.

Baylor Law Core Values

1. Excellence in Teaching within a Supportive Environment

A student-focused legal education requires a diverse faculty of excellent teachers and a dedicated and energetic staff who collectively make students their top priority. Doing so ensures that Baylor Law School takes full advantage of the valuable opportunity, provided by three critical developmental years, to make a difference in students' lives, and thereby in the lives of their future clients, the life of their communities, and the health and well-being of the legal profession and the public at large.

Promoting a culture of excellence and high expectations in students requires that teachers set high standards for student performance, that those standards be precisely and repeatedly articulated, and that students learn to be self-directed while meeting those high standards. ⁱ

2. Meaningful Scholarship

Meaningful scholarship serves an important role in a student-focused legal education that is designed ultimately to serve the public and the profession. It serves the law school's mission when it informs teaching excellence or makes a substantial contribution to the legal profession.ⁱⁱ

3. Professionalism

A central principle of Baylor's Professional School Model for transforming students into professionals is to cultivate students' respect for the legal profession, the rule of law, and the justice system, and an appreciation of the diverse society in which they will contribute. This focus on professionalism emphasizes competence, civility, high ethical standards, servant-leadership, work ethic, personal integrity, responsibility, accountability, inclusiveness, and courage required by the actual practice of law.ⁱⁱⁱ

4. Service

A student-focused training ground designed to prepare graduates to enter a service-oriented profession should inspire its graduates to become servant-leaders and equip them to be effective in that role. This focus is particularly suited to a law school that is part of a University dedicated to a global Christian mission. Baylor Law School is therefore committed to inspiring a passion for service—to clients, to an increasingly diverse society, and to the profession.^{iv}

Excellent teaching has many facets, including:

1. Skilled use of the Socratic method to teach students how to read case law and statutory law critically, and how to analyze legal issues and communicate solutions with precision;
2. Drawing on professional experience and academic expertise to teach students the structure, the theory, and the practical intricacies of substantive and procedural law;
3. Training students to acquire fundamental legal skills, and critiquing student performance of those skills, including legal research and writing, alternate methods of dispute resolution, working collaboratively, client counseling, negotiation, transactional planning and drafting, and trial and appellate advocacy;
4. Modeling and fostering professionalism, especially legal ethics, civility, work ethic, responsibility, accountability, personal character, integrity working collaboratively as part of a team, and treating others with dignity and respect;
5. Highlighting the important role of the legal profession and the rule of law's contribution to justice, freedom, and equality, and the challenges to making timely and affordable public access to "justice to all" a reality.

Meaningful scholarship advances knowledge and the understanding of law and legal institutions, including underlying policies, processes and their impact. At Baylor, we recognize and value a wide range of research, writing and other scholarly activities. A paradigm of the "co-inherence"—where teaching, research, and service, done well, co-exist and inform one another— is foundational. Thoughtful subject-matter exploration generates research, scholarship and engaging, dynamic classroom discussion which collectively serve as a training ground for the ambiguity students will experience beyond graduation.

At Baylor Law School, the emphasis on professionalism is both organic and intentional throughout the curriculum and in the array of extracurricular offerings, and through required professional development activities that begin at orientation and continue until graduation.

A servant-leader is best equipped to lead if trained to be a highly skilled, highly motivated, and creative problem-solver. A servant-leader understands that the commitment to service extends beyond clients to their communities, in which lawyers live and work, to the legal profession, the rule of law and the justice system. Service to clients transcends technical legal representation and advice. It includes a sincere compassion for those in need of legal services and seeing and treating them as human beings and not just legal issues or a source of income.

Service to the community may take the form of offering legal expertise, or, e.g., making a meaningful commitment of time to serve on the board of a non-profit or coach a children's soccer team. Service to the legal profession may take the form, e.g., of participating in the local, state, or national bar activities, giving CLE lectures, serving on committees proposing changes to legal rules, testifying before a legislative committee, eagerly accepting pro bono cases, or speaking on legal topics to civic organizations, and requires modeling upright behavior in all endeavors. A lawyer with a heart for service recognizes that the lens through which most of the public views the courts, the legal profession, and the rule of law is the ever-present opportunity to observe how lawyers live their lives and share their talents and training.

ACCREDITATIONS

Baylor University is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges. The Law School is accredited by the American Bar Association (1931) and the Association of American Law Schools (1938).

HISTORY

The teaching of law at Baylor University began in 1849. The School of Law was formally organized in 1857 with a course of study leading to the bachelor of laws degree. The Law School had among its early teachers several eminent lawyers and jurists in the early history of Texas, among them R. E. Baylor, Abner S. Lipscomb, John Sayles, and Royal T. Wheeler, the first dean of the Law School. The Law School was closed in 1883, and its modern history stems from its reorganization and reopening in 1920 under the leadership of Dean Allen G. Flowers, who served as its dean from 1920-35.

The Law School has operated continuously since that date, except for the period 1943-46, when World War II interrupted its operation. It was led in the pre-war and post-war periods by Deans Thomas E. McDonald (1935-39), Abner E. Lipscomb (1940-41), and Leslie Jackson (1941-48).

Abner V. McCall was dean of the Law School from 1948 to 1959, and served as President of the University from 1961-1981. William J. Boswell followed McCall as dean, serving from 1959-65. Dean Angus S. McSwain joined the faculty in 1949 and served as dean from 1965-84. Dean McSwain then returned to full-time teaching and was succeeded by Charles W. Barrow, who was a Justice on the Texas Supreme Court at the time of his selection as dean. Dean Barrow served as dean from 1984 to 1991. Brad Toben has been dean since 1991.

Baylor is one of nine accredited law schools in Texas. The Law School was approved by the ABA in 1931 and became a member of the AALS in 1938. Although its graduates comprise less than ten percent of Texas lawyers, they have had and continue to have an important and disproportionately great impact on government, the judiciary, and the legal profession. Baylor Law School graduates include many current and former statewide officeholders in Texas, many past presidents of the State Bar of Texas, and judges serving at all levels of the state judiciary and on the federal bench. Additionally, two presidents of the ABA since 1970 have been Baylor graduates. One of these was the distinguished Watergate special prosecutor, the late Leon Jaworski. Also a Baylor Law School graduate, William Sessions is former director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Sheridan & John Eddie Williams Legal Research and Technology Center

Welcome

Welcome to the Sheridan & John Eddie Williams Legal Research and Technology Center. Our primary clientele consists of faculty and students of Baylor Law School. We also serve the University's academic community, members of the practicing bar, and the general public. Although we are proud of our collection and the services that we offer, our most valuable assets are our staff members. We are a service-oriented institution and are committed to helping with your legal research needs. Please do not hesitate to ask for assistance from any member of our staff.

Library Hours

Library hours are subject to change. To find the most up to date information, please check the Law Library website or contact the Library at 254-710-2168. General Library hours are as follows:

Monday – Thursday
7:00 a.m. – Midnight

Friday
7:00 a.m. – 10:00 p.m.

Saturday
10:00 a.m. – 10:00 p.m.

Sunday
11:00 a.m. – Midnight

These hours are observed when classes are in session. During holidays, exams, or between quarters, special hours will be posted at the library entrance and on the Law Library's web page.

Reference Services

The Reference Office, located directly across from the Circulation Desk, is generally staffed Monday – Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

Circulation/Collection

The Law Library's collection consists of over 155,000 volumes and volume-equivalents. It is largely a non-circulating collection. Some materials, however, may circulate outside of the Law Library for limited periods of time. Most of the titles that circulate are shelved on the first floor in the Reserve Collection and on the second floor (the classified collection). Circulation privileges are restricted to Baylor students, faculty, and staff with valid ID cards and attorneys who are current members of the State Bar of Texas. Attorneys may request circulation privileges from the Circulation/Reserve Specialist at the Circulation Desk.

Food, Drink, and Tobacco Products

Consumption of food and use of tobacco products is not permitted in the Law Library. Beverages are allowed in the library only in sealed containers, such as the Baylor Law mugs or water bottles.

Interlibrary Loan

If a law student or faculty member needs a title that is not owned by the Law Library, he or she should contact the Reference Librarian or the Circulation Specialist to request it through interlibrary loan.

Study Space

The Law Library contains an abundance of comfortable areas in which to study and relax. All of these areas contain data and power outlets for Internet access. The wireless network may also be accessed from any location in the library by anyone who has a laptop computer with a wireless network card. Six study rooms are available on the second floor of the library for group use. Students wishing to use these rooms must reserve them at the library circulation desk. All of the seating areas on the first and second floors of the library are available on a first-come, first-served basis. The third-floor carrels are reserved for students who are enrolled in the Practice Court Program. Law Library patrons are requested to re-shelve materials and remove all personal items from the seating areas before leaving the library.

Photocopier

A photocopier is in Room 106A (Reserve Collection).

Online Public Access Catalog (OneSearch)

The catalog that contains information on the holdings of the Law Library, as well as all of the other libraries on campus, is known as OneSearch. A OneSearch terminal is located on the first floor of the Law Library (beside the Circulation Desk, near the entrance to the Reserve Collection).

Government Documents

The Law Library is a selective depository for United States government documents. The library selects documents to meet the needs of residents in the 17th Congressional District and the faculty/staff of Baylor Law School. The Law Library also participates in the Heart of Texas Documents Consortium to increase the number of selections available to library users. The bulk of the government documents collection is located on the 3rd floor of the Law Library (Room 310).

Microforms

The Law Library contains over 39,000 volume-equivalents of microfiche and microfilm. The microform collection is located on the first floor of the library. Library users may view the microform material by the reader-printer located in the Reserve Room.

Rare Book Room

A special collection of rare law books and documents was given to the School of Law in December, 1967, by Judge Frank M. Wilson of Waco. The 2,200 volumes and 50 documents contain many works that are among the most basic in recorded English law. They include the first printed English law textbook, produced in 1554, along with works by such legal pioneers as Bracton, Glanville, and Coke. Many of the early volumes are printed or written in Norman, Latin, or Old English. Some works of note in this collection include rare editions of Las Siete Partidas, the Magna Carta, and the English Yearbooks. The Rare Book Room is located on the second floor of the Law Library (Room 207).

STUDENT ACTIVITIES AND SERVICES

Pro Bono and Public & Community Service Activities

Baylor Law School has made a commitment to providing students with opportunities for assistance in delivery of quality pro bono legal services to those who are in need of legal services, and can't afford to pay for them. Students work with faculty, staff, and local attorneys to provide much needed pro bono legal services to deserving segments of the community.

Deferred Action Childhood Arrivals Immigration Clinic

On June 15, 2012, the Secretary of Homeland Security announced that certain undocumented young people who were brought to the U.S. through no fault of their own may qualify for deportation relief. Students participating in this clinic assist qualified individuals with the application process.

Estate Planning Clinic

Created to serve those who put their lives on the line in the service of their country and local communities, Baylor Law's Estate Planning Clinic provides free, basic estate planning for veterans and first responders (police, firefighters, paramedics, and emergency medical technicians) and their spouses living in and around McLennan County. Open to 2L and 3L students who have successfully completed Trusts & Estates and have earned the recommendation of faculty, students gain valuable, real-world experience helping clients arrange for the transfer of their assets to their heirs through the creation of wills and other legal documents.

People's Law School

Free and open to the public, the People's Law School offers a half-day curriculum featuring volunteer attorneys and legal experts who teach courses designed to educate members of the community about their legal rights and to make the law "user friendly." Law students volunteer to assist with the program.

Trial Advocacy Clinic

Students interested in litigation have a chance to put their skills to the test in actual courtrooms, with real cases, before sitting judges. Open to second-year and third-year students, the Trial Advocacy Clinic connects student volunteers to clients through two programs: Juvenile Court and Municipal Court. Representing the accused in their initial detention hearing in Juvenile Court, for most students, it's the first time they come face to face with a real client, witness the inner workings of the juvenile justice system, meet with a prosecutor, and have the opportunity to address a judge. The Municipal Court program affords students who have completed Baylor Law's Practice Court program to advocate for defendants who, because of cost, would likely go unrepresented. Focusing on Class C misdemeanors, students examine witnesses, interact with opposing counsel, argue to judges and juries, and advise their client through each phase of the proceedings.

Veterans Clinic

At monthly legal advice clinics, students gain hands-on experience working with Baylor Law faculty and volunteer attorneys in civil legal matters such as family law, consumer debt, bankruptcy, and real estate disputes. As the primary fact gatherers in the client interview, students discover that clients rarely arrive with their legal problems already tied in a neat bow. Developing the listening, interview and client counseling skills to elicit the facts—and the temperament to manage human side of the process—are foundational to any law practice.

Summer and Spring Break Public Interest Opportunities

Texas Access to Justice Commission's Summer Internships – Baylor Law School participates in this seven-to-ten-week program coordinated by the Texas Access to Justice Commission in which students work in one of several different public interest legal organizations in Texas that are not-for-profit or governmental organizations serving underrepresented populations.

Baylor Law Public Interest Summer Fellowships – Each summer the Law School provides public interest fellowships to students interning for not-for-profit or governmental organizations to assist underrepresented populations in obtaining equal access to justice. This program is funded through a meaningful endowment gift made to the Law School arising out of a consumer class action settlement.

Texas Access to Justice Commission's Spring Break Pro Bono Trip – Partnering with the Texas Access to Justice Foundation since 2013, Baylor law students volunteer their time to work with various legal aid entities around the state.

Pro Bono and Public Service Program – Students have an opportunity to serve the community on an individual basis. The work includes both public interest and community service. Seventy-five percent of the hours must be in law-related service. Up to twenty-five percent of the hours can be completed in any type of community service.

Providing Non-Legal Public and Community Service

Service is indeed important to Baylor Law School, and from the very beginning of their education our students serve the community. During 1L orientation, every student participates in a community service event. The importance of serving the community as lawyers is shared with students during the first quarter of study. This theme is recurring in the student's education, culminating in the required Professional Responsibility class in which students are again taught the importance of serving the community.

Baylor Public Interest Legal Society

The Baylor Public Interest Society is a service-oriented organization that exists to serve Baylor Law School and the Waco community in facilitating the involvement of students in public interest institutions and programs. Sample projects of this organization include facilitation of adoptions on National Adoption Day and participation in the Innocence Project of Texas.

Student Advocacy Competitions

The Harvey M. Richey Moot Court Society provides all Baylor law students with the opportunity to participate in two intra-scholastic moot court competitions per year during the fall and spring quarters. Students may also participate in an annual Client Counseling Intra-scholastic Competition each winter. Additionally, each year Baylor enters student teams in mock trial, moot court, client counseling, and transactional law meet competitions held across the country.

Student Organizations

Even though law students have very limited free time, student organizations are a great way to get to know people with similar interests, learn about a substantive area of law, or serve the community around you. The following is a list of student organizations at Baylor Law School. Students interested in finding out more information about any of these organizations can find more information on the Baylor Law School website <http://www.baylor.edu/law/currentstudents/index.php?id=934092>) or by contacting the Assistant Dean of Student Affairs and Pro Bono Programs.

MINORITY LAW STUDENT ADVISOR

The Law School is committed to extending opportunities in legal education to qualified minority applicants. Toward accomplishing this end, two members of the Law School faculty serve as Minority Law Student Advisor. The advisors assist in the recruitment of qualified minority law students, in familiarizing matriculating minority law students with the programs and policies of the Law School and the University, in academic advisement and assistance for minority students, and in minority student career development. Minority law students are encouraged to seek the assistance one or both of the Minority Law Student Advisors, Professor Laura Hernandez and Associate Dean Patricia Wilson, for any aspect of their academic studies and professional training and preparation.

CAREER DEVELOPMENT OFFICE

The Career Development Office (CDO) provides services to students and alumni including: 1) career counseling; 2) communication of resources and career opportunities; 3) interview and job search skills development, training, and strategies; and 4) the consolidation of numerous resources. The following is a more detailed list of some of the specific services and resources provided by the CDO to students and alumni.

Career Counseling - The CDO provides individual counseling to students and alumni. The counseling focuses on career interests, skills, and strategies that involve resumes, interviews, prospective employers, and practice areas.

Job Postings - Job listings are posted online in Baylor Law School's Symplicity database. All students gain access to the database in their first or second quarter.

On-Campus Interviews - Baylor Law School coordinates multiple on-campus recruiting events every year. The larger recruiting program is held in early August, and the others take place the week before fall classes begin in August, in November, and in the spring. Employers are invited to interview students and recent graduates for summer clerkship and attorney positions. The CDO also welcomes employers to campus throughout the year to interview students and recent graduates.

Resume Collection Program -The Resume Collection Program is available to those employers who wish to solicit resumes from students, but do not intend to conduct interviews on campus. The CDO posts the employer's specified hiring criteria, and students are instructed to submit their resumes to the CDO, through Symplicity.

Job Fairs- Job fairs provide a cost-effective means for law firms, government agencies, corporations, and public service organizations to make contact with students. Baylor Law School participates in the following job fairs:

DuPont Minority Job Fair (Various Locations)

Loyola Patent Law Interview Program (Chicago, Illinois)

Public Service Career Fair (Austin, Texas)

Southeastern Intellectual Property Job Fair (Atlanta, Georgia)

Sunbelt Minority Recruitment Program (Dallas, Texas)

Texas in Washington Recruitment Program (Washington, D.C.)

BYU Intercollegiate Job Bank - Students also have access to the BYU Intercollegiate Job Bank, which is a compilation of job listings from law schools across the country.

Reciprocity - The CDO has reciprocity with law schools across the country. Students and alumni seeking positions in other geographic locations have the opportunity to use the services and resources at other career services offices.

Programs - Students are encouraged to attend seminars and workshops presented by lawyers from various areas of practice. The CDO schedules these presentations to help students gain a better understanding of the various job opportunities available to graduates, and the unique responsibilities attorneys have to their clients and the profession. Sample programs include law firm etiquette, interviewing and networking techniques, aggressive job search techniques, debt management, resume review, mock interviews, career choices, stress management, areas of practice, women in the law, introduction to patent law, judicial clerkships and finding non-traditional summer jobs.

Online Resources - CDO Website: Visit the CDO website (www.baylor.edu/law/mycareerdevelopment) for information about the job-search process, resumes, cover letters, CDO programs, job fairs, how to prepare for interviews and much more.

Employer Tracker Map - You can find a map on the CDO website that lists the employers with whom the CDO has met in recent years. We maintain notes about each of these meetings, and we are happy to share this information with students in individual counseling sessions.

CDO Facebook Group - Join our Facebook group (BaylorLawCDO) for information about job opportunities, CDO events, and the latest career development news.

Resource Library - The CDO's library has a number of resources that focus on career skills/strategies, legal employers, law firm practice, solo or small firm practice, practice specialties, corporate legal practice, government practice, judicial clerkships, and public interest practice. The resources include books, periodicals, handouts, and online databases. Many of these resources are also available in the law library.

Baylor University Career Services Center - In addition to the services listed above, Baylor University's Career Services Center facilities and programs are available to law students.

Additional Required Courses

Students with a cumulative grade point average of 2.4 or lower at the end of the third quarter of law school (when all grades are completed) are required to take five of the following seven courses prior to graduation. These courses are not included when calculating the cumulative grade point average in the core required courses for purposes of determining eligibility for graduation.

Course Name	Credit Hours
9235, Administration of Estates	2
9350, Advanced Criminal Procedure	3
9342, Commercial Law: Secured Transactions	3
9383, Conflict of Laws	3
9360, Constitutional Law: Free Speech	3
9370, Family Law	3
9332, Wealth Transfers	3

To remain in good standing, a student must maintain a cumulative grade point average of 2.00 or higher and the student must graduate within seven years after matriculation. A student withdrawn for more than one year may not return without approval of the Faculty Academic Standards Committee. In no event will a student withdrawn for more than two years be allowed to continue legal studies. Such a student must seek readmission as an entering student.

Mandatory Participation in Law School Activities

From time to time throughout law school, students are required to participate in law school activities and events that will benefit them in some manner. Efforts are made to give students reasonable notice of such activities. During the first year of law school, students are required to participate in several activities. Fall and spring starters are required to serve as a bailiff for the moot court competition during their first quarter of study. For summer starters, this will happen in the second quarter (fall). By participating as bailiffs and jurors, students become familiar with the moot court competition and the Practice Court exercises in which they are required to participate in due time.

Employment While Enrolled

A student may not be employed for more than 20 hours per week in any week in which the student is enrolled for more than 10 class hours.

Undergraduate Degree and Official Undergraduate Transcript

Every Baylor Law student is required to submit official transcripts from each institution of higher education in which the student was enrolled prior to matriculation at Baylor Law to verify all academic credits undertaken and all degrees conferred. The deadline for each entering class is listed below. Unless an exception is approved by the Associate Dean on the basis of extraordinary circumstances, any student who does not submit all required transcripts by the deadline will be administratively withdrawn from all classes and prohibited from attending any class until all transcripts are submitted.

Deadline for submission of official transcripts:

Fall entering classes – October 15

Spring entering classes – March 1

Summer entering classes – June 5

Registration

First Year Students

Entering students will register for courses online prior to orientation. Second and third quarter students will register online for courses during the designated registration period. All first year students must register for the courses and sections designated by the Law School, except upon special approval of the Associate Dean.

Second and Third Year Students

Students in their fourth quarter and beyond must complete their registration online during the registration period near the end of the preceding quarter. Materials for registration will be available on the law school's website at Baylor.edu/law.

Courses of Study

First Year Students

First year students must register for the courses and sections designated by the Law School, except upon special approval of the Associate Dean. See list of first year required courses under the curriculum section of this catalog. All students must complete the first-year curriculum prior to enrolling in upper-class courses.

Second and Third Year Students

Students must take the following required course packages in their fourth and fifth quarters: Business Organizations 1, Taxation and Accounting Principles for Lawyers, Trusts & Estates and Constitutional Law: Individual Liberties if such quarter is the fourth or fifth quarter in the fall or spring, and Remedies if such quarter is the student's fourth or fifth quarter in the summer or winter terms. Remedies must be taken in the Winter, Spring or Summer quarter of the student's second year of study. Students must take LARC: Transactional Drafting during the second year of study. After taking LARC 4: Transactional Drafting, students must take LARC 5: Litigation Drafting. LARC 5: Litigation Drafting must be taken prior to enrolling in Practice Court 1.

All students must take the following courses together as a package in their seventh, eighth or ninth quarter if such quarter is a fall quarter and if the students expects to graduate on or before the upcoming spring commencement, or in their sixth, seventh, eighth or ninth quarter if such quarter is a spring quarter:

Practice Court 1: Pretrial Practice & Procedure - 5 hours

Practice Court 2: Trial Evidence, Procedure & Practice - 5 hours

Professional Responsibility - 2 hours

Students are required to take Practice Court 3: Trial & Post-Trial Practice, Procedure & Evidence in the quarter immediately following Practice Court 1. Students in Practice Court 1, 2 and Professional Responsibility cannot enroll in any other course unless approved by the Associate Dean. Students in Practice Court 3 cannot schedule other courses beginning at 1:20 p.m. or later unless approved by the Associate Dean.

Course Load

All students must be full-time students except upon approval of the Associate Dean. A student taking a course load of ten quarter hours (ten classroom hours per week) is considered a full-time law student and is eligible for the juris doctor degree upon completion of 126 quarter hours of credit. It will be noted, however, that completion of the 126 quarter hours generally requires a student to be enrolled in at least nine quarters of study, averaging 14 quarter hours per quarter. No student shall be allowed to take in excess of 17 quarter hours [ABA Standard 311(c)]. At Baylor Law, a one-credit-hour course on our quarter system requires a minimum of 10.5 hours in class (9 weeks of 70-minute classes) plus enough work outside of class each week to comply with ABA Standard 310.

Baylor Law School does not have a part-time program. Students registering to attend school each quarter must complete a full course load of at least 10 hours each quarter in which they enroll unless otherwise approved by the Associate Dean.

Tuition and Settlement of Accounts

Tuition

Per Quarter Hour $2.25

Per Year $ 94.50

Late Payment Fee (for financial settlement after due date): $ 100.00

Parking Permit Fee: $360.00 (good for full academic year)

* Based on 14 hours

 Based on 42 hours (the average number of hours taken during an academic year)

 Based on 3 quarters

Students who are recipients of scholarships from religious or fraternal organizations, foundations, corporations, or individuals, should arrange with their donors to have a check for their account on hand at the time of financial settlement.

Refund Policy

The following tuition and fee refund rules apply in the case of the dropping of courses:

100 percent refund if a course is dropped during the first week of classes

75 percent refund if a course is dropped on the 6th or 7th class days

50 percent refund if a course is dropped on the 8th through 10th class days

25 percent refund if a course is dropped on the 11th through 13th class days

No refund if a course is dropped beyond the 13th class day

Cancellations

Cancellation occurs when a student decides not to attend classes for a term prior to the first class day for that term.

Academic Effects - Cancelled classes do not appear on the official academic transcript.

Financial Effects - Cancellation and related refund requests must be made by the student and can be emailed to Cashiers_Office@baylor.edu. Cancellation requests must be received prior to the first class day for the term. For cancellations, all tuition, fees, and meal plans will be refunded at 100 percent. If a student never attends class and cancellation request is received after the start of class and approved, the student will be charged a fee for late cancellation.

Complete Withdrawal from the Law School

A student who finds it necessary to withdraw from the Law School during the term must arrange for an Official Withdrawal through the Law School Associate Dean or Registrar. The deadline to completely withdraw from classes is the last day of class for the term. Courses from which a student withdraws are not removed from the student's record. Refunds of tuition and fees for complete withdrawals are prorated on a per diem basis based on the total calendar days in that payment period up to the date that represents 60% of the payment period.

A student who is dismissed from the school or who chooses to withdraw from school after having breached probation will be subject to these tuition refund rules as in the case of any other complete withdrawal from school.

Academic Effects of Complete Withdrawal – When a student withdraws from the Law School, the assigned “W” is based upon the effective dates of the withdrawal. Failure to properly withdraw with the Law School will result in failure of classes. Contact the Associate Dean of the Law School or the Law School Registrar to request to officially withdraw from classes.

Financial Effects – Refunds of tuition, fees or other charges are applied to any outstanding balance owed to the University. Refunds of tuition and fees are based on the effective date of the withdrawal. Students who received scholarships or other financial aid should contact a financial aid counselor to discuss the financial implications of a complete withdrawal.

University Withdrawal

Upon confirmation by a student’s instructors of persistent non-attendance, the University reserves the right to withdraw the student for that term with an effective date matching the last known date of academic attendance or engagement.

Fee for Schedule Changes

A student may be charged $20.00 for any schedule change made from the first day of classes through the 9th week of classes if the change is made at the request of the student (as opposed to being due to over enrollment, etc.). The fee will be charged for the first schedule change made in a quarter. No fee will be charged for any additional schedule changes made thereafter within the quarter. A student desiring to make a schedule change after registration should contact the Registrar.

Class Audit Policy

Courses in the Juris Doctor curriculum may be audited on a space available basis with the permission of the instructor, and in the discretion of the Associate Dean, by regularly enrolled students in the Law School, by graduates of the Law School or by graduates of other accredited law schools. However, courses to be taken for credit by regularly enrolled students may not be taken on an audit basis. Classroom participation requirements will be determined by the instructor. One-half tuition will be charged for auditing, but may be waived in the discretion of the Associate Dean. Prospective applicants, applicants, and admitted but non-matriculated students may observe classes on terms arranged by the Admissions Office in consultation with the instructor. Also, visitors are welcome to observe trial advocacy skills exercises in the Practice Court program with the assent of the instructor or the instructor's designee.

Dropping Courses – Juris Doctor First Year Courses

The scheduled first-year course of study, as provided at the time of enrollment, is not subject to variation except by express permission of the Associate Dean, which will be granted only in extraordinary circumstances.

Second and Third Year Juris Doctor Courses

A student not on academic probation may drop any course, as long as it is not a limited enrollment course, during the first nine weeks of the quarter. Limited enrollment courses may not be dropped after the Friday immediately preceding the first day of class for the quarter. When dropping a class that is not limited enrollment, a "W" will be noted on the student's transcript unless the student is failing at the time the course is dropped, in which case an "F" will be noted. No student will be allowed to drop any course after the end of the ninth week of any quarter without (1) unusual circumstances, (2) certification of the instructor that the student is not failing the course, and (3) permission of the Associate Dean. To drop a course after the first week of the quarter, students must complete a course drop request form which can be obtained from the Registrar. The course drop form must be signed by the instructor. Failure to officially drop a course will result in a grade of "F."

Attendance – Juris Doctor

Students are required to attend all scheduled classes. Under no circumstances will credit be given for courses in which the student is absent more than the maximum number of allowable absences for the class. Unless a smaller number of classes is designated by the professor, the "maximum number of allowable absences" shall be 25% of the total number of class meetings scheduled to meet in accordance with the class schedule and the calendar for the quarter. A student having absences for more than the maximum number of allowable absences, although otherwise performing satisfactorily (as determined by the instructor) shall receive a grade of "NC" in the course, and no credit will be given. A student having absences for more than the maximum number of allowable absences and not performing satisfactorily for the quarter will receive an "F" (as determined by the instructor).

Grade System

The system of grades and corresponding grade points earned for each quarter of credit is as follows:

Letter Grade	Grade Point Average
A	4.00	Excellent
A-	3.67
B+	3.33
B	3.00
B-	2.67
C+	2.33
C	2.00	Satisfactory
D	1.00	Passing
F	0.00	Failing

P Passing; the notation of "P" is given in field placements or other courses which are graded on a pass-fail basis (see description on Pass-Fail courses below).

HP High Pass; the notation of "HP" is sometimes awarded for work in the Legal Analysis, Research & Communications courses if the course is not graded on a letter grade basis. The High Pass grade recognizes a high quality of work product.

- CR Credit, the notation "CR" is used upon successful completion of a capstone course.
- I Incomplete; the notation "I" is entered in lieu of a grade when a student fails to complete required written work. The student must present to the instructor good reason for the delay and obtain permission to submit the work late. If this provision is not observed by the student, an "F" will be entered as the grade. If permission is obtained and the work is completed within one year, the grade earned in the course will be entered in lieu of the "I." Otherwise, an "F" will be entered as the grade.
- NC No credit; the notation "NC" is used by the instructor where a student has not successfully completed a capstone course or field placement, or in the instance where a student has been absent for more than the maximum number of allowable absences in a course, but is otherwise performing satisfactorily.
- DP Dropped from a course in satisfactory status.
- DF Dropped from a course failing.
- W Withdrawal from all currently registered courses.

The lowest passing grade is "D." An overall grade point average of 2.0 and a grade point average of 2.0 for required courses is required for graduation. A required course in which a grade of "F" is made must be retaken. A required course in which a grade of "D" is made may be retaken. An elective course in which a grade of "D" or "F" is made may be retaken. Required courses may only be retaken at the Law School and not at another law school. The grade received in the repeat course shall be recorded on the student's transcript, but no grade points in excess of two grade points per quarter hour will be allowed for repeat courses. The original grade of "D," or "F" shall remain on the transcript but will not affect grade point calculations.

Pass-Fail Juris Doctor Courses

The grade of "P" is given in clinical or other courses which are graded on a pass-fail basis. The grade indicates that the quarter hours are credited toward the required 126 hours for graduation, but no grade points are given and such hours are not included for the purpose of computing a grade point average unless otherwise approved in writing by the Associate Dean of Baylor Law School. A student may receive no more than 12 hours of credit for pass-fail courses; however, students pursuing a JD/MBA, JD/MDIV, JD/MPPA, JD/MTAX joint degree may receive up to 6 hours of pass-fail credit for law school courses in addition to the 12 hours of credit for graduate business or graduate school courses, giving those students a maximum of 18 pass-fail credits. Credit received at another ABA approved law school with prior written consent of the Associate Dean of Baylor Law School is to be considered pass-fail credit and counts toward the allotted 12 hours of allowable pass-fail credit.

The following Law School courses are currently graded on a pass-fail basis:

- 9325 Business Law Boot Camp
- 9289 Jurisprudence
- 9105 Legal Analysis, Research & Communications: Litigation Drafting
- 9206 Leadership Development
- 9174 Personal Injury Trial Law
- Capstones (Credit / Non Credit)
- Field Placements
- Law Review Credit Hours

Subject to permission by the Associate Dean, the following graduate courses in the Business School may be taken for pass-fail credit:

ACC 5361 Corporate Taxation

ACC 5362 Partnership and S Corporation Taxation

ECO 5350 Health Economics

ACC 5364 International Taxation

ACC 5363 State, Local and Gift Taxation

Non-classroom Credit and Grade Points

Students participating as members of an advocacy team are awarded credit hours and a letter grade. The hours earned for up to four advocacy teams count toward the total hours needed to complete the degree requirements.

Grade points may be awarded for significant involvement in certain academically related activities such as the moot court program and intra-school client counseling competitions. Grade points earned through participation in these activities will be posted to the student's academic transcript after graduation and after all grades have been posted for the student's final quarter of enrollment. Grade points earned in these activities are included in the calculation of class rank only at graduation. Grade points earned will not be used to calculate academic scholarship eligibility, probation matters or to satisfy the graduation requirements.

Transcripts

Current students may view their transcript in BearWeb. Students can request an official transcript in BearWeb, or by submitting a request bearing their signature to the Baylor University Registrar's Office. Unofficial transcripts can be obtained in the Baylor University Registrar's Office, which is located on the third floor of the Clifton Robinson Tower.

Admission of Transfer Students – Juris Doctor

A student who desires to transfer to Baylor Law from another American Bar Association-accredited or provisionally accredited school and has completed at least two semesters as a full-time student or has two full-time semesters' worth of credit earned through a part-time program may apply as a transfer student to Baylor Law.

The primary factors considered for admissions are the applicant's cumulative undergraduate grade point average, LSAT score(s), and previous law school performance (GPA and class rank).

A transfer applicant must submit the following items through the Law School Admission Council (LSAC):

1. An application for admission. Use Baylor Law's standard application and simply check the box for transfer admission.
2. A letter of good standing from the Dean or Registrar of your current law school, including class rank.
3. An official transcript showing your law school grades for all terms attended.
4. A copy of your CAS report. When you submit your application through LSAC, a CAS report will automatically be requested. If a letter of recommendation is not included in the CAS report (it can be from your initial law school application), you will need to submit a new one.
5. An essay explaining why you want to transfer to Baylor Law

Transfer Credit From Another Law School – Juris Doctor

For students transferring to Baylor Law from another ABA accredited law school, up to thirty semester hours (the equivalent of 45 quarter hours) of transfer credit toward graduation may be allowed at the time of a student's admission to Baylor as a transfer student. Students receive a maximum of 1.5 quarter hours for each 1 semester hour giving transfer students up to 45 quarter hours of credit. Practice Court 1, 2, 3 and Professional Responsibility must be taken at Baylor Law.

For Baylor law students who attend another law school as a visiting student, transfer hours from the other school shall be allowed as part of the maximum pass-fail hours allowed as described in this Catalog, subject to prior approval by the Associate Dean. Pass-fail credit will not be granted for course work which is substantially similar to coursework done by the student at Baylor Law. Practice Court 1, 2, 3 and Professional Responsibility must be taken at Baylor Law.

Transfer hours are recorded on a student's transcript on a pass/fail basis. Grades earned on transfer hours are not included in the calculation of a student's Baylor Law School grade point average.

Students with questions regarding admission as a transfer student should contact the Office of Admissions at 254-710-6872. Students with questions about studying at another law school as a visiting student can inquire with Jerri Cunningham, Registrar at 254.710.4115, or Associate Dean Patricia Wilson at 254-710-6591.

Baylor Law Students Interested in Study Abroad:

Baylor Law students who are in good standing are eligible to participate in study abroad programs that are approved by the American Bar Association. Students must receive pre-approval of courses by Associate Dean Wilson prior to attending such a program. The student will need to provide a course description for each course for which they wish to receive credit along with the number of minutes spent in each class. The total number of minutes spent in each class will be used to determine the number of credit hours granted. Transfer work is recorded as pass/fail credit on the Baylor Law transcript.

Class Rank – Juris Doctor

Current J.D. students are ranked twice per year, after spring quarter and fall quarter grades are submitted. This rank is determined with the intent of assisting students in the job search process.

Upon graduation, and once all grades are submitted for the final quarter, each J.D. graduating class is ranked with the two previous graduating classes to determine final rank in class. This final rank is placed on the student's final transcript. In determining the final rank, the highest ranking will be given to the student who earned the highest grade point average.

Graduation

Commencement exercises at the Law School are "uncertified," meaning that commencement is held and students are allowed to participate in the ceremony prior to having been certified as having passed all courses. Faculty are generally required to certify graduating seniors no later than the Wednesday of the week following the last day of final exams.

Graduation Honors -Juris Doctor

To be eligible to receive the honors designation of cum laude on the diploma, the student must have earned a grade point average of at least 3.4 but less than 3.6 for all law school credit received.

To be eligible to receive an honors designation of magna cum laude on the diploma, the student must have earned a grade point average of at least 3.6 but lower than 3.8 for all hours of law school credit received.

To be eligible to receive an honors designation of summa cum laude on the diploma, the student must have earned a grade point average of at least 3.8 for all hours of law school credit received.

A student who meets the above requirements shall receive the appropriate honors designation only if the faculty determines that the student has made meaningful contributions to the Law School program and that the student is worthy of such distinction in accordance with the traditions, expectations and mission of Baylor Law School.

Graduation quarter examination grades are not available at the time of graduation; therefore, notation of honors on the graduation program only will be made on the basis of all credit hours completed through the student's quarter of enrollment next preceding the quarter of graduation. The notation of honors on the student's diploma and final transcript will be made on the basis of all hours completed.

Dean's List – Juris Doctor Students

Full-time students having a grade point average of 3.25 for final grades in any quarter will be on the Dean's List for that quarter.

Academic Probation

Any student whose grade point average falls below 1.90 on the 4.0 grading scale shall be subject to dismissal from the Law School. When a student subject to dismissal remains in school, he or she shall be on probationary status. The Law School's policy statement regarding probation and dismissal is described under the Appendices section of this catalog. Any student whose required or cumulative GPA falls below 2.4 must consult with the Associate Dean prior to registering.

Discipline

Baylor Law School is entitled to prescribe appropriate standards of conduct in addition to, and independent of, those prescribed by the University. As such, students are expected to conduct themselves in a professional, ethical, and moral manner at all times. The Law School reserves the right to place a student on probation, to suspend or expel a student from school, to withhold a degree from a student, or to take other appropriate action, if, in the opinion of the Dean or Associate Dean, the character or conduct of the student prevents, or will prevent, acceptable representation of Baylor Law School in light of the standards of the legal profession, Baylor Law School or Baylor University.

Law students, as students enrolled in Baylor University, also are subject to general University regulations, all of which can be found in the Baylor University Student Handbook and Student Policies and Procedures. No student may be admitted to or retained in the Law School who is excluded for disciplinary or other reasons from the University. The Baylor University Student Conduct Code and other student policies and procedures can be accessed online at https://www.baylor.edu/student_policies/index.php?id=953980.

Honor Code

The Student Honor Code of the Law School is administered by the Honor Council. The Honor Council is composed of six students and two faculty members. A student accused of an honor code violation is entitled to a procedure in accordance with the Honor Code rules. The Honor Code is located under the Appendices section of this catalog.

Statement on Required Skills

A successful candidate for the J.D. degree at Baylor must be able to solve complex problems, to perform legal research, and to memorialize and organize information in an accessible form. A candidate must be able to perform legal analysis and reasoning under pressure, to articulate under stress by effective oral and written communication, to regularly and punctually attend class, and to meet time deadlines. A candidate must possess the emotional health required for full utilization of his or her abilities and the interpersonal skills to work, and communicate candidly and civilly, with others. Any questions should be discussed with the Associate Dean prior to matriculation.

Student Records

The provisions of the "Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)," are designed to protect the privacy of educational records and to establish the rights of students to review their educational records. Further information on FERPA and its implementation at Baylor University may be found in the Student Records area of the Baylor University website: <http://www.baylor.edu/registrar/index.php?id=86721>

Student Responsibility

From time to time, specific rules in regard to the administration of the Law School, such as registration, changing courses, graduation requirements, etc., will be posted on the Law School's website at Baylor.Edu/Law and all students are charged with notice of them.

Laptop Exam Procedures – Juris Doctor Students

The Laptop Exam Procedures policy is included under the Appendices section of this catalog.

Character and Fitness Qualifications for the Bar

As part of the application to Baylor Law School, applicants answer several questions regarding fitness to enter the legal profession. Baylor law students have a continuing responsibility to inform the Law School of any changes to the answers they provided to those questions, as well as new situations that may have occurred after the student filed his or her law school application.

Law School graduates must become admitted to the bar of a state or territory in which they plan to practice law. All jurisdictions have standards of character and fitness the candidates are required to meet in order to become admitted to the bar. Applicants therefore should consult the bar examiners of the jurisdictions in which they wish to become admitted. Information on requirements for bar examinations in various states is available on the website of the National Conference of Bar Examiners at <http://www.ncbex.org/>.

Application for the Bar Examination

Each individual who plans to sit for the bar exam must submit application in the state or territory in which they plan to take the exam. Each state has its own deadlines for application for the bar exam. Information regarding deadlines, fees and other requirements can be found on the website of the National Conference of Bar Examiners at <http://www.ncbex.org/>. The Law School registrar can also provide assistance to students with questions about applying for a bar examination.

Juris Doctor Degree Curriculum

Methods of Instruction

The case method of instruction is employed in the majority of courses, particularly in the first three quarters. This traditional method of law study involves a thorough analysis of assigned cases and the rules and principles of law deduced from the cases. Through this approach, the student develops an ability to recognize, analyze critically, and evaluate legal issues and positions while learning basic rules and principles of law. Classroom discussion is encouraged, and related statutory and non-legal material is correlated with the cases studied. Other methods of instruction are used where appropriate to the subject matter and objectives of the course. In certain courses, for example, students are given assignments which resemble the type of problems a practicing attorney encounters in daily practice.

Examinations

A written final examination is generally given at the end of each course with the student's grade for the course determined largely by that examination grade. The final examination is given only in the examination time slot as scheduled by the Associate Dean and announced in advance of the course. The scheduled final examination time slot can be changed only upon unanimous consent of all students in the course and approval of the professor and the Associate Dean. Moreover, the rescheduled time slot must fall during officially scheduled examination weeks.

An individual student shall be excused from taking the examination only under extraordinary circumstances, such as hospitalization, and only if, prior to the scheduled examination time, he or she has been excused by both the instructor and Associate Dean. If excused, the student will be given an "incomplete" and the student will take the exam the next time a regularly scheduled exam is offered for that course; however, an instructor may make other arrangements provided that appropriate steps are taken to insure examination integrity. Absence from a scheduled final examination other than under these circumstances will require a grade of "F" to be given for the course.

Practice Court

Nowhere is the Baylor emphasis on lawyering skills more apparent than in its nationally known advocacy program. Students are taught, from the first day of law school, not only substantive law, but also procedural law and the strategic and tactical application of the law. Courses like Civil Procedure, Remedies, Federal Courts, Conflict of Laws and Beginning Trial Advocacy Skills introduce students to the skills essential to the successful trial lawyer.

The bedrock of Baylor advocacy training has, since 1922, been the Practice Court course, a six-month course required of every third-year student. This ten-hour course was devised by the late Chief Justice James P. Alexander to bridge the gap between the student's academic training and the problems of actual practice. Practice Court is dedicated to rigorous instruction in procedure and trial advocacy skills. Students study procedural law in great depth, developing an appreciation for the kind of precision essential to a skilled lawyer. Students also learn fundamental techniques for pre-trial discovery, the trial of a jury case, direct and cross examination of witnesses, jury argument, evidence skills, voir dire examination and jury selection. During Practice Court, students try at least five cases. As concluded by the editor of the American Bar Association's Litigation News, ". . . Baylor law students get a degree of trial advocacy training unusual among the nation's law schools"

While one mission of the Practice Court program is to prepare students for litigation and trial practice, the program's broader mission is to prepare each student to be a competent, responsible, and ethical lawyer and human being, whether the student ever sees the inside of a courtroom or not. Students enrolled in the Practice Court program are introduced to the realities of modern law practice and the responsibilities of lawyers to clients, courts, and society. Moreover, through Practice Court especially, Baylor students develop an appreciation for attention to detail, for precision in analysis, thought, expression and communication. Indeed, these skills are invaluable to all students regardless of what field of legal practice the student chooses to enter. The thinking and communication skills and the familiarity with the litigation process developed in Practice Court are critically important to students planning careers in areas other than litigation, such as business planning, real estate, and other non-litigation fields.

Legal Writing

Writing is foundational to the practice of law. Everything that takes place in a courtroom begins with writing. Every sales agreement, non-disclosure, and contract crucial to business rests on writing. From litigation to the practice of transactional law, written advocacy skills are crucial.

Legal employers have long identified writing as a weakness in many law school graduates. For Baylor graduates, it has become a strength. Baylor is one of the few schools in the nation with a comprehensive, three-year, fully integrated writing program that focuses on the development of practice-ready writing skills.

Legal writing classes are rigorous and thorough, with each course building on the previous student progress from foundational mechanics, grammar, and syntax, through research and objective writing, to the very documents they will be writing in practice. The journey culminates in the third year in Baylor's nationally recognized Practice Court, where students will draft the full gamut of litigation-based documents from beginning to end.

Led by a writing faculty with more than a century of experience in the practice of law and a half-century of full-time teaching, the writing program is hands-on, with peer reviews and one-on-one feedback. Regarded as having one of the best legal writing programs in the state of Texas, Baylor develops a sense of mastery in students that places them well ahead of their peers, ready to enter practice as effective written advocates on day one.

Field Placements

Practical experience in dealing with clients and handling actual cases may be obtained by students through participation in several programs for which credit may be earned. Experience may be gained in field placement programs offered in the office of the McLennan County District Attorney and the office of the Assistant United States Attorney for the Western District of Texas in Waco. Judicial Field placements are available in the United States District Court for the Western District of Texas (Waco Division), the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Western District of Texas (Austin and Waco Divisions), and the Supreme Court of the State of Texas in Austin. For information about additional judicial field placements, see the Director of Career Services. Students may also participate in a field placement program in the Waco office of the Legal Services Corporation assisting poverty-level clients in legal matters under the supervision of a staff attorney. Administrative law field placements are available at the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), the General Land Office (GLO), the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ), Texas Parks & Wildlife Department (TPWD) and the Texas Railroad Commission. There is also a field placement program with the Texas Attorney General-Child Support Division Office in Waco. The Texas Supreme Court field placement carries up to five quarter hours of credit and requires approximately 225 hours of supervised work. All other available field placement offerings carry two quarter hours of credit and require a minimum of 90 hours of supervised work. Students interested in pursuing an opportunity with a court or agency not listed above should visit with the Assistant Dean of Career Development. Students may participate in only one field placement unless otherwise approved by the Dean, Associate Dean or Assistant Dean.

Professional Development Requirement – Juris Doctor Degree

Employers want graduates who are knowledgeable about the professional and business practicalities of practicing law. While in Law School, you will be required to attend 18 seminar hours of professional development programming on such topics as client relations, law firm economics and financial management, legal billing and time management, legal marketing and networking, professional organizations and leadership opportunities, navigation through common ethical issues, job search strategies, and professional writing. Our goal is to produce professionals who are truly "practice ready" and prepared to succeed.

Students are not expected to attend any professional development sessions during the third quarter in the midst of moot court exercises, or during Practice Court quarters in the third year. For the remaining six quarters of law school, students should plan to attend approximately 3 hours each quarter to earn a total of 18 hours of attendance. Although students are welcome to attend as many seminar and workshops as they choose, no more than 5 hours of credit may be earned in one quarter, so it is important not to delay attendance. Although most offerings will not be mandatory, students must attend those which are mandatory. There is also a category of Introductory-level offerings (essentially "Day-in-the-Life" seminars) for which a maximum of 3 seminar hours may be credited, although students are free to attend as many of these offerings as desired.

Most seminars will be scheduled either during the afternoons, with occasional evening seminars. More popular seminars will be offered on a repeat basis more than once per year, in order to provide multiple opportunities for attendance. In order to track the 18 hour requirement, the student will swipe their Baylor ID card through a card reader at the end of each seminar. Students will also be asked to turn in an evaluation form at that time to help the Law School evaluate the quality of each seminar speaker.

Fellows Programs

Leadership Development Fellow Program

As a professional school, Baylor Law School has a particular obligation to develop students who not only can provide legal services competently to their clients upon graduation, but also will assume leadership within their community and the legal profession. The Leadership Development Program provides students with the tools necessary to be more successful as lawyers and leaders but also has the added bonus of improving the reputation of lawyers and the legal profession in general. More information about the Leadership Development Program is available online at:

<https://www.baylor.edu/law/currentstudents/index.php?id=935914>

Public Interest Fellow Program

The Public Interest Fellow Program is the pro bono and community service program for Baylor Law Students. It is designed to encourage and equip students to make pro bono work a priority now while managing a heavy course load, developing a desire to continue that work throughout their lifetime of practice. The program connects students with opportunities to serve and exposes them to the needs of the Waco community and beyond. More information about the Public Interest Fellow Program is available online at: <https://www.baylor.edu/law/index.php?id=934129>

JURIS DOCTOR DEGREE PROFESSIONAL TRACKS OF STUDY & SPECIAL DISTINCTIONS

Baylor Law School offers 15 “Professional Tracks of Study” and seven “Special Distinctions.” These tracks and distinctions will provide students with the opportunity to focus their studies based on interest and career goals.

The Professional Tracks are as follows:

- Administrative Practice
- Business Litigation
- Business Planning
- Commercial Law
- Criminal Practice
- Estate Planning
- Family Law
- Fiduciary Litigation
- General Civil Litigation
- Healthcare Law
- Intellectual Property
- Intellectual Property Litigation
- Personal Injury Litigation
- Public Interest Law
- Real Estate & Natural Resources

Special Distinctions:

- Business Planning Special Distinction
- Commercial Law Special Distinction
- Criminal Practice Special Distinction
- Estate Planning Special Distinction
- Intellectual Property Special Distinction
- Public Interest Special Distinction
- Special Distinction in Litigation

Students are not required to complete a professional track or special distinction, but are encouraged to do so. Students interested in one or more areas of study should see one of the designated faculty members for additional information about the benefits of pursuing the completion of a track or special distinction. Planning needs to begin as early in law school as possible to avoid potential scheduling conflicts.

Professional tracks of study will not be noted on the law school transcript. Special Distinctions will be noted on the transcript after completion and will be recognized at commencement.

Professors who can be consulted about a particular track or special distinction are listed at the bottom of each listing on the following pages.

Administrative Practice (Litigation Professional Track)

Contact Persons: Professor Shelton

Administrative regulation at the state and federal level has grown into a massive patchwork of more than 400 Texas and federal agencies. This professional track is designed to provide students with a broad-based exposure to the concepts, topics and skills that are vital to practitioners who work for or before governmental agencies. It is impossible to cover the substantive law of all agencies and thus, after completion of the required courses, a student is allowed to focus in one specific area or obtain a broad based exposure through the selection of electives. The course entitled Business and State Issues in Environmental Law is required because it exposes all students to common and practical issues arising in the regulatory process that have similar application to all major regulatory agencies. After completion of the required courses, the student selects a topic for independent study related to either environmental law or the substantive law of a major federal or state agency. The capstone consists of a field placement at a government agency, generally a Texas agency in Austin. The student is exposed to the day-to-day workings of an agency and works closely with administrative officers and employees. This professional track qualifies as a foundation track for the Special Distinction in Litigation.

Business Litigation (Litigation Professional Track)

Contact Persons: Professor Bates, Miller, Underwood or Wren

As commercial transactions and business operations become more complex, so do the disputes between the parties. Students interested in a career of litigating business or commercial lawsuits may pursue the Business Litigation professional track. This professional track is also beneficial to students interested in managing litigation – or working to avoid litigation – on behalf of a business. Business litigators must work not only to become masters of procedure but also to develop a basic understanding of business and commercial transactions. To complete a professional track in Business Litigation, students take a variety of courses to introduce them to the major substantive and procedural areas likely to be encountered by a practitioner involved in business or commercial litigation. This professional track qualifies as a foundation track for the Special Distinction in Litigation.

Students are required to take 18 hours as follows:

A GPA of 3.3 in all track courses * (including additional hours as required above) will be required for a student to receive the Special Distinction designation.

*If a student has taken more than the minimum number of hours of track courses and a grade in a course that is not required for receipt of the Special Distinction would result in the GPA being below the requirement, that grade need not be included in the GPA calculation. If a grade in a track course that is required for receipt of the Special Distinction causes the GPA to be below the requirement, grades in track courses beyond the number of hours required for the Special Distinction may be included in order to raise the GPA in the track courses.

A student who meets the above requirements for a Special Distinction shall receive that designation only if the faculty determines that the student has made meaningful contributions to the Law School program and that the student is worthy of such distinction in accordance with the traditions, expectations and mission of Baylor Law School.

Commercial Law Track

Contact Person: Professor Bates

The Commercial Law track equips students with the expertise and skills necessary to address the many and varied problems that can arise as part of the day-to-day activities of operating a business – especially smaller owner/family-operated businesses engaged in selling products or providing services. Commercial law, as opposed to what we think of as business law – law related to the organizational characteristics of a business operation (what is it), focuses on the practical problems that confront any business in its pursuit of the purposes for which it is established (how we do it) – whether that is selling appliances or the latest iThing, or dry cleaning suits or repairing air conditioners. Of course, Target and Amazon confront the same problems, but there are more small businesses selling and servicing our needs than there are Targets or Amazons. The Commercial Law Track prepares students once in practice to identify the problems inherent in the conduct of commercial life as we know it and to develop the legal strategies necessary to prevent or confront those problems.

Criminal Practice (Litigation Professional Track)

Contact Person: Professor Serr

The Criminal Practice professional track is designed to provide students with a broad exposure to concepts, topics, and skills vital to criminal practitioners. Choosing this professional track provides students with a firm foundation for beginning a career in criminal law. Career opportunities available in the criminal practice area include joining a district attorney's office as an assistant prosecutor, working for a division of the Texas Attorney General's Office or the United States Department of Justice prosecuting a diverse array of crimes (such as environmental crimes, antitrust crimes, and civil rights violations), or working as a criminal defense attorney. This professional track carries students well beyond the Criminal Law and Criminal Procedure courses which are required of all students. The Criminal Practice professional track provides a working familiarity with many practical aspects of criminal law and procedure – which are fundamental to criminal practice but often neglected by law schools – including plea bargaining, sentencing procedure, appeal, and habeas corpus. Students in Criminal Practice also have the opportunity to complete a practice experience in a district attorney's office or federal prosecutor's office under the direct supervision of a prosecutor. This professional track qualifies as a foundation track for the Special Distinction in Litigation.

The Criminal Practice Professional Track will still be a litigation track that may serve as the foundation for the SD in Litigation. A student who does not complete the criminal law capstone but completes the Criminal Practice Professional Track and additional requirements for the SD in litigation will still be about to obtain the SD in litigation.

Estate Planning Track

Contact Person: Professor Featherston

The Estate Planning professional track is designed to give students a well-rounded legal education with focused study in the areas of trusts, estates, and estate planning and administration, so students can begin their careers with a fundamental understanding of the major aspects of estate planning and probate procedure. This professional track builds upon a number of courses required of all students, including Trusts & Estates, Business Organizations I, and Taxation & Accounting Principles for Lawyers. Students work under the direct supervision of an experienced estate planner and have the opportunity to devise an estate plan, prepare drafts of documents, and work through the steps of the administration of an estate.

Family Law Practice (Litigation Professional Track)

Contact Person: Associate Dean Wilson

Families, in all their varied forms, continue to be the cornerstone of American society. As such, family law generates a large volume of legal work from a wide array of clients who need high-quality representation. The Family Law Practice professional track exists to provide the practical foundation for developing a practice in this area of the law. Since dispute resolution and a significant degree of direct professional guidance of clients are often required, both Client Counseling and Alternative Dispute Resolution are required courses. The other required courses focus on the substantive and procedural law specific to a family law practice. The elective courses allow students to further tailor their studies to some of the more specialized topics often encountered in a family law practice. This professional track qualifies as a foundation track for the Special Distinction in Litigation.

Family Law Practice Required Courses (12 hours)

- Advanced Family Law (3) 9380
- Alternative Dispute Resolution (2) 9247
- Client Counseling (2) 9227
- Family Law (3) 9370
- Family Law Advocacy (2) 9299

- Contract Drafting & Negotiation (3) 9316
- Elder Law (2) 9248
- Immigration Law (3) 9373
- Juvenile Justice (2) 9254
- Taxation of Individuals & Family Businesses (3) 9345
- Wealth Transfers (3) 9332

Fiduciary Litigation (Litigation Professional Track)

Contact Persons: Professor Featherston, Miller, Underwood or Wren

Fiduciary litigation is a significant and growing field of litigation that cuts across varying categories of litigated matters, including business disputes, estate and trust disputes, family law disputes, and disputes in numerous other substantive legal areas. Because fiduciary obligations arise in multiple ways, and because the existence of fiduciary duties can radically reshape the dynamics of litigation, fiduciary litigation has grown into its own specialization. The required courses for the fiduciary litigation professional track focus on the substantive areas of the law where fiduciary duties most commonly arise, in order to help students understand the origins and context of fiduciary obligations, as well as remedies for violations of fiduciary duties. The elective courses for the professional track are broader in nature, providing additional and somewhat more generalized litigation depth. This professional track qualifies as a foundation track for the Special Distinction in Litigation.

Fiduciary Litigation Required Courses (12 hours)

- Administration of Estates (2) 9235
- Business Organizations 2 (3) 9322
- Business Transactions: Mergers & Acquisitions (3) 9319
- Business Planning & Drafting (2) 9292

- Trial Advocacy: Advanced Discovery Management (3) 9353
- Trial Advocacy: Advanced Trial Preparation (2) 9263

General Civil Litigation (Litigation Professional Track)

Contact Persons: Professor Counsellor, Fraley, Ryan or Wren

All trial lawyers must be masters of procedure, the complex body of rules that so often determine the outcome of disputes. The General Civil Litigation professional track provides students interested in litigation, whether as general civil practitioners or as lawyers specializing in a particular type of litigation, with a solid foundation in the procedural law necessary for any type of litigation practice. In addition to litigation-oriented courses required of all students—Civil Procedure, Remedies, and Practice Court (which immerses students into evidence and procedure)—students concentrating in General Civil Litigation complete a variety of advanced procedural courses, including a study of alternative dispute resolution procedures such as mediation and arbitration. Given that most civil trial lawyers specialize in a particular type of litigation, students choosing General Civil Litigation have the flexibility to shape their track of study to reflect their particular interest. Students interested more specifically in business litigation, such as actions involving corporate officer and director liability, employment discrimination, securities litigation, or antitrust litigation, can complete the Business Litigation professional track, separately or in combination with the General Civil Litigation track. Students interested in fiduciary and probate litigation are encouraged to consider adding the Fiduciary Litigation professional track; students interested in personal injury litigation may choose to add the Personal Injury Litigation track; and students interested in litigating in the intellectual property field may want to consider adding the Intellectual Property Litigation track. The General Civil Litigation professional track qualifies as a foundation track for the Special Distinction in Litigation.

Intellectual Property Track

Contact Persons: Professor Nichols

The Intellectual Property professional track is designed to introduce students to the major substantive areas of intellectual property law likely to be encountered in a practice. Intellectual property is one of the fastest growing practice areas globally. With the growth of e-commerce and the advent of new technologies, attorneys in a wide range of practices encounter questions that require basic knowledge of intellectual property law. This track of study offers students the opportunity to develop skills under the supervision of an experienced IP lawyer. Students who take the capstone in this area learn how to conduct an appropriate client analysis as well as apply substantive law to the drafting, reviewing, and negotiating of intellectual property-related agreements.

Required Courses

- Copyright Law (3) 9371
- Intellectual Property (2) 9264
- Intellectual Property Capstone or Clinic (1 or 2) (1) 9106 or 9164

- Entertainment Law (2) 9230
- Franchising (2) 9276
- Information Privacy Law (2) 9222

A GPA of 3.3 in all track courses * (including additional hours as required above) will be required for a student to receive the Special Distinction designation.

*If a student has taken more than the minimum number of hours of track courses and a grade in a course that is not required for receipt of the Special Distinction would result in the GPA being below the requirement, that grade need not be included in the GPA calculation. If a grade in a track course that is required for receipt of the Special Distinction causes the GPA to be below the requirement, grades in track courses beyond the number of hours required for the Special Distinction may be included in order to raise the GPA in the track courses.

A student who meets the above requirements for a Special Distinction shall receive that designation only if the faculty determines that the student has made meaningful contributions to the Law School program and that the student is worthy of such distinction in accordance with the traditions, expectations and mission of Baylor Law School.

Intellectual Property Litigation (Litigation Professional Track)

Contact Person: Professor Nichols

Intellectual property litigation is one of the most active trial specialties in the nation, and especially so in Texas. Students with a strong science or engineering background are particularly encouraged to consider this field. For students who plan to ultimately pursue a specialization in intellectual property specifically, this professional track can be combined with the Intellectual Property transactional professional track. For students who desire to pursue a broader practice in civil litigation but anticipate that intellectual property litigation will be part of that practice, combining Intellectual Property Litigation with either the General Civil Litigation or Business Litigation tracks may be a very good choice. The Intellectual Property Litigation professional track qualifies as a foundation track for the Special Distinction in Litigation.

Intellectual Property Required Courses (12 hours)

Personal Injury Litigation (Litigation Professional Track)

Contact Persons: Professors Fraley or Wren

Personal injury litigation continues to be a mainstay of active trial dockets. Of all the various categories of civil litigation court cases filed, personal injury and wrongful death cases constitute one of the categories most likely to be tried to a jury, and it is one of the categories most likely to be encountered by individual clients. Students interested in the personal injury field of practice may want to consider combining this professional track with General Civil Litigation, with Family Law Practice, or with Criminal Law Practice, depending on the direction of future practice plans. The Personal Injury Litigation professional track qualifies as a foundation track for the Special Distinction in Litigation.

Personal Injury Required Courses (15 hours)

- Alternative Dispute Resolution (2) 9247

Public Interest Law Track

Contact Persons: Professors Hernandez or Serr

Questions of constitutional law impact our daily activities, running the gamut from traffic stops to controversial internet posts to the right to attend public school. These important constitutional rights are usually defended through litigation initiated by public interest groups. Students who are interested in pursuing public service careers, or who plan to make pro bono work a meaningful part of their practice, should consider pursuing a Public Interest Law professional track. This type of legal work requires a solid understanding of constitutional interpretation, focused on the Bill of Rights, as well as familiarity with various litigation requirements imposed by statutes or the courts. A student who completes the Public Interest Law professional track will be well familiar with legal strategies to enforce constitutional rights. This professional track qualifies as a foundation track for the Special Distinction in Litigation.

Special Distinction in Litigation

Contact Persons: Professors Counseller, Fraley, or Wren

A Baylor Law School Special Distinction in Litigation—which is recognized at graduation and becomes part of a student’s permanent transcript—may be awarded to graduates who successfully complete any one of the litigation professional tracks, who are selected as a team member for a national-level mock trial team, who complete at least five additional hours beyond the litigation professional track (for which mock trial team hours count), and who maintain a GPA of at least 3.3 in the 22 to 24 hours of courses designated by the student to be counted toward the Special Distinction. In light of Baylor Law School’s national ranking and reputation for outstanding advocacy, a Baylor Law School Special Distinction in Litigation is designed to identify a top tier of future trial advocates.

Requirements for Special Distinction in Litigation

- Successful completion of any approved litigation track: Administrative Practice, Business Litigation, Criminal Law Practice, Family Law Practice, General Civil Litigation, Intellectual Property Litigation, Personal Injury Litigation, Public Interest Law.
- Selection for and successful completion of the Litigation Capstone: Participation on a national-level mock trial team (TOC, NCTC, NTC, AAJ, or equivalent).
- Completion of at least 3 additional hours (in addition to capstone) from a long list of potential courses which have not already been counted toward the first litigation track.
- A GPA of 3.3 in all track courses* (including additional hours as required above) will be required for a student to receive the Special Distinction designation.

Dual Degree Programs

Dual Juris Doctor/Master of Business Administration

The Law School and the Hankamer School of Business offer a dual degree program that leads to the simultaneous award of a Juris Doctor (JD) and a Master of Business Administration (MBA) degrees. While the JD program trains students to recognize and analyze legal issues, the MBA program instructs students in management of business enterprises. The JD/MBA program strives to improve the effectiveness of both business managers and legal counsel for business entities by training each to understand the role of the other and the importance of their respective contributions to the successful operation of a business. JD/MBA students should consider pursuing a concentrated course of study at the Law School in Business Transactions or Business Litigation.

Students receive 12 hours of credit toward the JD upon the successful completion of the MBA required courses and 12 hours of credit toward their elective requirement for the MBA upon successful completion of Law School coursework. Thus, JD/MBA students complete 114 quarter hours of law courses and 32 semester hours of core graduate business courses. Since both degrees are awarded simultaneously, all requirements in both schools must be completed in order to receive either degree.

Students with a non-business undergraduate degree or undergraduate majors lacking proficiency in all business fields will be required to participate in the Business School Integrated Management Seminar before enrolling in any graduate business courses.

Dual Juris Doctor / Master of Business Administration-Healthcare Administration

To accommodate students who contemplate a career where healthcare and law overlap, the Law School and the Robbins MBA Healthcare Program offer a dual degree program that leads to the simultaneous award of a Juris Doctor (JD) and a Master of Business Administration (MBA) with a specialization in healthcare administration.

Healthcare has become an increasingly specialized area of the law and healthcare administrators are integral to the successful management of hospitals, nursing homes, hospice facilities, insurance companies, provider networks and government policy organizations. This joint degree program provides appropriate general background courses and necessary specialized healthcare law classes while also allowing students to examine the legal and business aspect of healthcare administration from multiple perspectives, drawn from a cross-section of multidisciplinary expertise.

Unlike many healthcare administration MBA programs, the Robbins MBA Healthcare Program requires a seven-month paid Executive Residency with a leading, progressive healthcare organization. With a residency placement rate of 100%, every student has the opportunity to receive guidance from well-qualified, practicing healthcare executives, apply and test administrative theory in practical work situations, and develop leadership skills in an actual healthcare organization.

Students receive twelve hours of credit toward their JD upon the successful completion of the required MBA-Healthcare Administration courses. Both degrees are awarded simultaneously upon the completion of all requirements in both schools.

Students with adequate business undergraduate degrees generally complete the dual JD/MBA-Healthcare Administration program in approximately four years. Students with a non-business undergraduate degree or undergraduate majors lacking proficiency in all business fields are required to participate in the Business School Integrated Management Seminar before enrolling in any graduate business and healthcare courses.

Students must make regular application for admission to, and be accepted by, both the Law School and the Graduate School. All applicants must take the GMAT.

Dual Juris Doctor/Master of Divinity

The dual degree links the faculties, resources, and educations of a nationally-recognized law school and a top-tier seminary, offering to students an education that prepares them well for a multitude of leadership opportunities. Graduates will be fully qualified to serve in a traditional law practice or in a congregational setting. Beyond these contexts, the skill sets developed from this program will also allow graduates to serve in non-profit organizations, particularly those focused on human rights, or in careers that provide legal advocacy for society's underserved populations.

The dual JD/MDiv degree meets the standard requirements of both degree plans. A prospective student must make regular application for admission to, and be accepted by, both the Law School and the Seminary. Once admitted to both schools, the student will declare his or her intent to enroll in the joint degree with the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs of the Seminary and the Associate Dean of the School of Law.

Dual Juris Doctor/Master of Public Policy and Administration

Students interested in governmental service at the federal, state or local level can complete their law degree along with a Master of Public Policy and Administration (MPPA) degree offered by the political science department of Baylor University. This dual degree program leads to the simultaneous award of a Juris Doctor (JD) and Masters of Public Policy and Administration. While the JD program trains students to recognize, analyze and formulate legal solutions to legal issues, the MPPA develops students' ability to work within the context of governmental entities that must confront larger issues of public policy. The JD/MPPA strives to improve the effectiveness of governmental leaders in the administration of massive, complex regulatory or benefit programs.

Students receive 12 hours of credit toward their JD upon the successful completion of the MPPA degree requirements and 12 hours of credit toward their elective requirement for the MPPA upon successful completion of Law School coursework. Thus, JD/MPPA students complete 114 quarter hours of law and 24 semester hours of graduate work. Since both degrees are awarded simultaneously, all requirements in both schools must be completed in order to receive either degree.

To request an application to the MPPA program, contact the Graduate School at P.O. Box 97264, Waco, TX 76798 or at 254.710.3588. For additional information, contact the Political Science Department, P.O. Box 97276, Waco, Texas 76798, 254.710.3161.

Persons with questions concerning any of the joint degree programs should contact the Associate Dean of the Law School at 254.710.1911. Students must apply for admission to, and be accepted by, both the Law School and the Graduate School. All applicants must take the GRE.

Joint Juris Doctor/Master of Taxation

The Law School is the only law school in Texas and one of only a few law schools in the nation to offer a dual degree program that leads to the simultaneous award of the Juris Doctor (JD) and Master of Taxation (MTAX) degrees. JD/MTAX students receive a broad based legal education in the Law School while the Hankamer School of Business Masters of Taxation Program provides the students with an in-depth study of all major aspects of taxation. Students desiring a career in taxation (either planning or litigation), business planning or estate planning would benefit from the joint JD/MTAX degree. JD/MTAX students are encouraged to pursue a concentrated study at the Law School in Business Transactions, Estate Planning, or Business Litigation.

Students receive 12 hours of credit toward their JD upon the successful completion of the required MTAX courses, and 12 hours of credit toward their elective requirements for the MTAX coursework. Thus, JD/MTAX students complete 114 quarter hours of law and 21 semester hours of graduate tax. Since both degrees are awarded simultaneously, all requirements in both schools must be completed in order to receive either degree.

It is possible for students with adequate accounting backgrounds to complete the joint JD/MTAX program in 36 months. Students with a non-accounting undergraduate degree may be required to complete some basic-level accounting courses before enrolling in any graduate tax courses. For further information, see the Associate Dean.

Students may contact the Hankamer School of Business Graduate Programs Office at (254)710-3718.

Juris Doctor First-Year Courses -- All Required

9405 Civil Procedure (4 qtr. hrs.)

An introduction to our judicial process as a method of dispute resolution. The focus of this course is on the choices open to litigants and how the rules of procedure facilitate or prevent the attainment of those objectives. Major areas of concentration include our system of pleading, jurisdiction, federalism, preclusion, and the rules that regulate the joinder of parties and claims.

9401 Constitutional Law: Structure, Power & Legislation (4 qtr. hrs.)

The Constitution creates and separates the powers of the 3 branches of government. It also distinguishes and governs the relationships among the federal government and the several states. These limits on governmental power were, and still sometimes are, invoked as the primary guarantee of personal liberty against excessive government. Of course, we now associate the Bill of Rights with personal liberty. Those liberties are covered in Constitutional Law: Individual Liberties. But before asking whether there's a liberty overriding government power in Constitutional Law: Individual Liberties, we first explore the structure and powers created by the Constitution.

9407, 9408 Contracts (8 qtr. hrs.)

A comprehensive survey of the law of contracts both at common law and under the Uniform Commercial Code. This course examines the legal and equitable remedies for enforcing contracts, the creation of promissory liability, contract interpretation, performance and excuse, standards of fairness and restrictions on the bargaining process, express and implied conditions and the rights of third parties.

9303 Criminal Law (3 qtr. hrs.)

A study of the concepts basic to criminal law, including voluntary acts and omissions, states of mind, strict liability, murder and manslaughter, causation, accomplice liability, inchoate liability (attempt, conspiracy, and solicitation) and defenses (mistake, necessity, duress, self-defense, insanity).

9356 Criminal Procedure (3 qtr. hrs.)

A study of constitutional limitations on police investigation of crime, including search and seizure, interrogations, lineups, and surveillance.

9101 Legal Analysis, Research, and Communications 1: Introduction to Legal Writing (LARC 1) (2 qtr. hrs.)

Legal Analysis, Research, and Communications (LARC) 1 is a one-credit-hour course taken during each student's first quarter of law school. In this course, students learn fundamentals in important aspects of legal writing and problem-solving, including: (1) legal organization (issue, law, application, rebuttal), (2) legal clarity (sensitivity to legal terms of art, statutory phrases, elements of proof, and so forth), and (3) legal specificity (always tying general legal principles and elements to particular facts of the case).

LARC 1 focuses principally on technical writing skills, including grammar, punctuation, style, and organization generally. Other functions include introduction of types of writing in the legal profession, including documents drafted during later parts the LARC program, and completion of a memorandum project.

9103 Legal Analysis, Research, and Communications 2: Introduction to Legal Research (LARC 2) (1 qtr. hr.)

LARC 2 focuses on basics of legal research and proper citation format. Students are responsible for completing assignments that will give them practical experience in using legal sources that are discussed in class. The course culminates in the completion of a research memorandum, and students must employ skills learned throughout LARC 1 and LARC 2 to complete the exercise.

9203 Legal Analysis, Research & Communication 3: Persuasive Communications (LARC 3) (2 qtr. hrs.)

LARC: Persuasive Communications is an introduction to written and oral advocacy. The persuasive skills introduced here will be refined in other courses within the writing curriculum, including Litigation Drafting and Practice Court. The skills needed for effective advocacy are developed in this course principally by requiring student to research, write, and rewrite an appellate brief. Students will be introduced to oral advocacy by participation in a required moot court competition where they are judged by faculty and by student barristers.

9411, 9312 Property (7 qtr. hrs.)

A study of the interests which may be created in real property, the rights and obligations that exist by virtue of ownership of such interests, and the means of transferring those interests. Topics covered include: possession and how it affects property ownership, estates in land, landlord tenant relationships, real covenants and equitable servitudes, easements, concurrent ownership, the real estate transaction, general warranty deeds, priorities and the recording system, title insurance, adverse possession, gifts of real and personal property, Texas homestead laws, and eminent domain. The first quarter of Property meets four hours a week and the second quarter of Property meets three hours a week.

9413, 9314 Torts (7 qtr. hrs.)

A study of the standards and principles governing compensation at law for private wrongs, including the basic principles of intentional wrongs, negligence, strict liability, affirmative defenses, damages, and apportionment. Students receive four hours of credit for the first quarter and three hours of credit for the second quarter.

Juris Doctor Upper-Class Required Courses

Upper-Class Course Prerequisites

Satisfactory completion of all first-year courses is a prerequisite for enrollment in upper-class courses, in addition to the specific course prerequisites listed below.

9521 Business Organizations 1 (5 qtr. hrs.)

A study of basic agency principles and the law governing the formation and operation of corporations, general and limited partnerships (including limited liability partnerships), and limited liability companies. The course requires the study of common law and the Texas Business Organizations Code.

9301, Constitutional Law: Individual Liberties (3 qtr. hrs.)

This course is an introduction to the U.S. Constitution's protection of individual freedom, focusing especially on the Due Process Clause and the Equal Protection Clause, and also including an introduction to several of the core concepts of the First Amendment. Topics include: the constitutional limits on governmental discrimination on the basis of race, alienage, and gender; the struggle to identify unenumerated fundamental liberties related to family, marriage, procreation, child-rearing, and death; the components of procedural due process; the requirement of "state action" and when it includes actions taken by private parties; the "incorporation" of the Bill of Rights and consequent application to state invasions of those rights; and an introduction to several of the core concepts of the First Amendment's speech and religion protections.

9104 Legal Analysis, Research & Communication 4: Transactional Drafting (1 qtr. hr.)

During the course, students will obtain an awareness and understanding of a transactional environment, analyze commercial issues, recognize negotiation points, and learn to draft legal documents and correspondences in a business setting. The course is designed for students to understand the structure, content, and meaning of basic contract terms, to be able to draft and analyze a simple agreement and evaluate its effectiveness for a client's needs, to advise a client on the terms of an agreement, and to amend a basic agreement.

9105 Legal Analysis, Research & Communication 5: Litigation Drafting (1 qtr. hr.) (pass/fail)

Building on the fact pattern used in LARC 4, this course introduces students to writing that is common in the litigation process. The assignments focus on developing well-rounded legal communicators who can tailor their writing to varied audiences and may include drafting of pleadings, motions, responses, client communication and communication with opposing counsel. The goal is to introduce the importance of technically correct and persuasive documents – skills that will be further developed in Practice Court and in a litigation practice. The course is especially valuable for internships, clerkships and temporary employment. Each project involves a draft, peer review, conferences, and a rewrite to develop proper form and persuasive content.

9527 Practice Court 1: Pretrial Practice & Procedure (5 qtr. hrs.)

The first quarter of the Practice Court Program starts with Practice Court 1, and immerses students in the procedures and strategies for developing a court case from inception of the case through final preparation for trial. Students learn to properly construct – and attack – the various pleadings for the case, from the standpoint of both the plaintiff and the defendant. They work through the planning and development process for written discovery and depositions – including exposure to the challenges of electronic discovery and document management – that lay the foundation for success in court. Courtroom exercises are coordinated with the trial exercises of Practice Court 2. The lab consist of lectures and exercises. Students should plan to be available to participate in the lab at 1:00 p.m. onward each week day while they are in Practice Court 1. Exercises at times last into the evening.

9520 Practice Court 2: Trial Evidence, Procedure & Practice (5 qtr. hrs.)

Practice Court 2, taken in the first quarter of the Practice Court Program, is an intensive, in-depth study of trial procedure, evidence law and trial advocacy. Classroom instruction focuses primarily upon a detailed study of the rules of procedure and evidence, including the practical use of the rules in the litigation process. Courtroom "lab" instruction includes lectures in trial advocacy, followed by exercises in opening statements, witness examination, and closing arguments. Students also try a number of jury cases or "mini-trials." Students should plan to be available to participate in the lab at 1:00 p.m. onward each week day while they are in Practice Court 2. Exercises at times last into the evening.

9528 Practice Court 3: Trial & Post-Trial Practice, Procedure & Evidence (5 qtr. hrs.)

This course, taken in the second quarter of the Practice Court Program, is a continuation of Practice Court 1 and 2. It focuses upon bench and jury trials, jury selection, trial procedure, the charge, deliberations, the verdict, the judgment and post-trial motions. Students continue with advocacy exercises, including summary judgment hearings and jury selection. The culmination of the Practice Court Program is the "Big Trial." Students are assigned to represent a party, given a skeleton case packet from which they must plead, discover (including written, oral and expert discovery) and ultimately try their case to a real jury. Prior to the day of trial, students conduct jury selection using their "Big Trial" case facts. Students are encouraged to use trial technology for more effective courtroom presentation. Finally, they engage in post-trial motion practice to secure rendition of a judgment.

Students should plan to be available to participate in the lab at 1:20 p.m. onward each week day while they are in Practice Court 3. Exercises at times last into the evening.

9229 Professional Responsibility (2 qtr. hrs.)

A study of the role and responsibility of the legal profession. Subjects covered include the disciplinary rules of professional conduct, client relations, pro bono services, professionalism, and economics of the profession.

9326 Remedies (3 qtr. hrs.)

An introduction to the ordinary and extraordinary legal and equitable remedies available generally, with an emphasis on Texas.

9207 Taxation & Accounting Principles for Lawyers (2 qtr. hrs.)

An introduction to basic federal income tax and financial accounting principles with primary emphasis on business and investment income and deductions, exclusions from gross income, and the income tax consequences related to the acquisition and disposition of property, employment, litigation settlements, and divorce. Students will also be introduced to basic individual income tax returns and financial statements.

9504 Trusts & Estates (5 qtr. hrs.)

A study of the gratuitous transfers of wealth, including wills, intestate succession, trusts and other non-testamentary transfers. The course also covers the property rights of spouses under the Texas community property system.

Juris Doctor Upper-Class Elective Courses

9235 Administration of Estates (2 qtr. hrs.)

A study of the law of administration of trusts and the estates of decedents, minors and incapacitated persons. This practice skills course focuses on the procedural aspects of an estate practice.

9132 Administration of Estates Capstone (CR/NC) (1 qtr. hr.)

Prerequisites: Trusts & Estates and Administration of Estates

A student works one on one with a faculty member working through a series of exercises designed to provide the student with the opportunity to develop and apply analytical and problem solving skills in connection with topics covered in Administration of Estates. This course allows the student to experience the types of problems lawyers practicing in this field handle on a routine basis.

9268 Administrative Law: Federal (2 qtr. hrs.)

A study of governmental regulation by federal administrative agencies, and the nature and scope of judicial review exercised by courts over such agencies. Particular emphasis is placed on the delegation of legislative power to agencies, their combination of judicial and legislative functions, and the nature of the administrative process.

9287 Administrative Law: Texas (2 qtr. hrs.)

A study of governmental regulation within Texas. An emphasis is placed upon Texas agencies with statewide jurisdiction that are subject to the provisions of the Texas Administrative Procedure Act. Particular emphasis is placed upon the procedural aspects of rulemaking and contested case proceedings along with a study of the scope of judicial review exercised by the courts over such agency actions.

9350 Advanced Criminal Procedure (3 qtr. hrs.)

Prerequisite: Criminal Procedure

A study of constitutional and statutory law, not covered in Criminal Procedure, as it relates to and affects the various stages of a criminal prosecution, including pretrial detention, the charging decision, grand jury, discovery, the plea, jury selection, and trial. Several advanced constitutional issues are covered in depth, including double jeopardy, speedy trial, confrontation clause and competency. For a student pursuing the Criminal Practice area of concentration, this is best taken as early as possible and strongly recommended prior to post-conviction procedure and the field placement.

9353 Advanced Discovery Management (3 qtr. hrs.)

Pre or Corequisite: Practice Court 3

As information, especially digital information, continues to grow exponentially, the discovery phase of litigation increasingly dominates the litigation process. This advanced course will provide law students with practical, advanced knowledge and skills for dealing with discovery issues. Students will add to their basic discovery knowledge gained through Practice Court by drafting key discovery documents focusing on best practices, and through classes concentrating on the effective management of paper discovery and electronic discovery materials.

9380 Advanced Family Law (3 qtr. hrs.)

Prerequisite: Family Law

In-depth study of: underlying and current legal problems and issues arising in an advanced family law practice, including: relevant evolution and current legal status of the marriage relationship and the current legal status of property and parent-child relationships in marriage and the family; case management and jurisdictional considerations arising from parent-child legal relationships across jurisdictional borders; privacy regulations implicit to family law property and party records use; legal status and rights of children or unmarried parents and of assisted and surrogate reproduction; termination and adoption procedures; and the practice of Collaborative and Cooperative law in dissolution.

9333 Advanced Legal Research (3 qtr. hrs.)

Instruction in a broad range of legal research materials and advanced research methods. This course is intended as a practical skills course that expands beyond the scope of LARC: Introduction to Legal Writing, Part 2, the first-year research course. Sources covered include a number of practice materials, electronic databases, and World Wide Web resources. The course also covers several specialized areas of research, including federal tax, business and commercial law, securities law, estates and trusts, family law, intellectual property, criminal law and procedure, and foreign and international law.

9V10 Advocacy Team Participation (2 qtr. hrs.)

Students who participate on advocacy teams receive academic credit for participation. Students earn two hours of credit for each team on which they serve, but are limited to earning a total of eight hours of credit for teams. Students receive a letter grade for each team and must pay tuition for these credit hours. Team members should consult with the coach of their team for details about practice times.

9247 Alternative Dispute Resolution (2 qtr. hrs.)

A study of the techniques, goals, and methods of negotiating, as well as other forms of dispute resolution, primarily mediation. The principal teaching method is the use of simulated problems in which the students seek to negotiate resolutions to disputes involving a variety of factual settings and legal theories. Enrollment is usually limited to 36 students.

9363 Antitrust Law (3 qtr. hrs.)

A study of antitrust law and policy applied to various business settings, including contracts in restraint of trade, restrictive agreements involving price-fixing and limitations on resale, trade boycotts, product tying and exclusive dealing arrangements, trade association activities, monopolies and oligopolies, mergers of separate business entities, and price discrimination.

9257 Arbitration (2 qtr. hrs.)

A study of state and federal arbitration law including the ability to compel or resist arbitration as well as practical guidance on drafting arbitration agreements and preparing for and participating in arbitration hearings.

9270 Attorney General, Child Support Division, Field Placement (Pass/Fail) (1-3 qtr. hrs.)

Students provide support in such tasks as the prosecution of paternity cases, calculating child support, and enforcement of child support orders.

9295 Bankruptcy (2 qtr. hrs.)

A study of liquidation and reorganization of businesses under the Bankruptcy Code, including forms or relief, commencement and administration of cases, the bankruptcy estate, treatment of secured and unsecured claims, use of cash collateral, avoidance actions, executory contracts and the plan confirmation process.

9241 Basic Mediation Training (2 qtr. hrs.) (Pass/Fail)

The purpose of this multi-session course is to students how to be a mediator. The multi-session training is in a very interactive, experiential manner to optimize learning experiences. This intensive training complies with both the Texas statutory requirement for mediation training (§ 154.052 Tex. Civ. Prac. & Rem. Code), as well as the Texas Mediation Trainers Roundtable Standards for Mediation Training.

9377 Business & State Issues in Environmental Law (3 qtr. hrs.)

A study of certain business and state issues related to Environmental Law and potential environmental liabilities, especially in relation to the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act (aka "CERCLA" or the federal Superfund statute). Business issues include environmental audits, reporting and disclosure, lender liability, indemnity agreements, and insurance. Many of these issues are considered in a transactional context. In addition to studying business issues, particular state issues are considered, including transfer statutes and contemporary issues in Texas.

9325 Business Law Boot Camp (3 qtr. hrs.)(pass/fail)

Prerequisite: Business Organizations 1

This course is an intense intersession course offered between the spring and summer quarters. The course provides a practical perspective on multiple aspects of business and its legal requirements and implications, including forming a business, commercial borrowing, raising capital, trademark and advertising issues, succession planning, selling a business, basic accounting, contract drafting, and negotiation skills. The course also includes networking events and supplemental opportunities for professional development and mentoring. Enrollment is limited, and students must apply for enrollment.

9374 Business Transactions: Debt Financing (Lending to the Middle Market, Leveraged Buyouts, and Project Finance) (3 qtr. hrs.)

Prerequisite: Business Organizations 1

This course will examine loan documentation typically used in commercial lending to middle market businesses, leveraged buyouts, project finance, and lender liability issues. The course will (i) begin with an analysis of the typical loan agreements used in a middle market loan, third party agreements (e.g. personal guaranties, inter-creditor agreements), (ii) move onto project finance (e.g. design, engineering, construction, operation and maintenance contracts, and project performance standards), and (iii) culminate in an analysis of LBOs. The course will be valuable to lawyers representing borrowers as well as lenders.

9322 Business Organizations 2 (3 qtr. hrs.)

Prerequisite: Business Organizations 1

A study of various corporate, partnership, and LLC topics beyond the scope of Business Organizations 1. Topics include mergers and acquisitions, conversions, and reorganizations; successor liability; duties and liabilities in winding up; derivative litigation; and certain issues related to publicly traded companies (such as insider trading and reporting requirements).

9122 Business Planning Capstone (1 qtr. hr.)

Prerequisites: Business Organizations 2, Business Planning & Drafting, Securities Regulation, Taxation of Individuals & Family Businesses, and Taxation of Business Entities

Students are required to play the role of lawyer in a transaction involving a business entity. The transaction forming the basis of the capstone is typically the formation, reorganization, or sale of a closely held business. The course provides students the opportunity to apply and develop analytical and drafting skills in connection with legal issues and problems that arise in the negotiation and documentation of such a transaction.

9292 Business Planning and Drafting (2 qtr. hrs.)

Prerequisite: Business Organizations 1

A practice skills course centered around hypothetical business problems and transactions involving closely held businesses. The course includes analysis of, and exercises involving, choice and structure of entity, ethical concerns in representation of closely held businesses and their principals, and common issues and problems facing the closely held business.

9386 Business Torts (3 qtr. hrs.)

This course provides advanced instruction on tort claims that arise in business relationships. The course focuses upon the substantive law governing civil wrongs (outside of mere breach of contract claims) committed by or against business entities. Areas of coverage include common law fraud, negligent misrepresentation, contorts (i.e. distinguishing between tort and contract causes of action), tortious interference with contract and prospective contractual relations, misappropriation of trade secrets, breach of fiduciary duty, appropriation of name or likeness, business disparagement and conspiracy. Further, some coverage of covenants not to compete is also provided. The course is designed for those that may be interested in handling general business litigation. A number of other specialized courses cover more specialized statutory areas of substance, such as consumer protection, securities regulation, and antitrust.

9319 Business Transactions: Mergers & Acquisitions (3 qtr. hrs.)

Prerequisite: Business Organizations 1 (this requirement may be waived for students with appropriate business background).

This course is an introduction to mergers & acquisitions that will focus primarily on the structuring, negotiation and documentation of private M&A transactions. This course will walk through the terms of a private form merger agreement in detail and discuss provisions commonly negotiated in practice. This course will also apply concepts from the private merger agreement reviewed at depth to provide exposure to other forms of acquisitions, such as stock purchase agreements and asset purchase agreements. The course will also review acquisitions of a public company and how they differ from private acquisitions. In addition to a final exam, this course will include a material drafting assignment.

9348 Business Transactions: Venture Capital (3 qtr. hrs.)

Prerequisite: Business Organizations 1 (This requirement may be waived for students with appropriate business background.)

This course is an introduction to venture capital transactions that will explain the life-cycle of early-stage companies from formation through exit (M&A or IPO) and use industry standard form agreements to introduce and examine legal and business issues that arise in VC transactions. This course will primarily focus on corporate preferred stock financings, but will also provide exposure to other forms of financings, such as convertible debt, SAFEs and private equity transactions utilizing flow-through structures (such as LLCs). Finally, this course will provide an overview of VC/PE fund formation and certain business and legal issues related thereto. In addition to a final exam, this course will include material drafting assignments.

9256 Civil Rights Actions (2 qtr. hrs.)

Recommended prerequisite: Constitutional Law: Free Speech

Used to bring lawsuits against the government, this course discusses the intricacies of Section 1983 litigation. Section 1983 creates liability for certain government actions taken "under color of" the law. We will learn what is actionable, what types of immunity are conferred to government and government actors as well as pleading strategies around those immunities.

9227 Client Counseling (2 qtr. hrs.)

Students in this course seek to develop those skills necessary to establish appropriate professional relationships with clients. Specifically, the class engages in exercises that encourage students (i) to recognize and use different questioning techniques; (ii) to develop the skills to counsel clients in a manner that encourages full client participation in decision-making; and (iii) to recognize and resolve potential ethical issues related to the attorney/client relationship. In-class exercises are supplemented by assigned readings.

9110 Commercial Law Capstone (1 qtr. hr.)

Students seeking special distinction in Commercial Law will be assigned a case involving a commercial law dispute for their Practice Court 3 "Big Trial" (provided the student informs the PC Associate and gets capstone approval from the supervising commercial law faculty member by or before the fifth week of PC 1 and 2 during the preceding quarter). If more than one student in the PC class is completing a commercial law capstone, those students will be assigned the same Big Trial case to the extent is feasible. Each capstone student will then meet weekly throughout the PC 3 quarter with the supervising faculty member. The supervising faculty member will participate in developing both a theory of the case and the strategy necessary to implement that theory at trial, primarily by means of asking appropriate questions of the student(s). The student will meet with the expert to discuss drafts of pleadings, discovery documents, and any other materials prepared for use as part of the trial of the case. The student will also develop and draft an expert's report to be filed in connection with the case.

9340 Commercial Law: Negotiable Instruments (3 qtr. hrs.)

A study of Articles 3 and 4 of the Uniform Commercial Code involving the rights and liabilities of parties on promissory notes, checks, and drafts. Topics covered include the concept of negotiability, the process of negotiation, holders in due course, the nature of liability of parties on an instrument, the relationship between banks and customers, and wrongdoing in connection with instruments. Additional related materials include electronic fund transfers, wire transfers, and letters of credit.

9342 Commercial Law: Secured Transactions (3 qtr. hrs.)

A study of Revised Article 9 of the Uniform Commercial Code involving consensual security interests in personal property and fixtures and the sale of accounts and chattel paper. Topics covered include creation of a security interest, types of collateral and types of security agreements, perfection, multistate transactions, priorities, and rights on default.

9243 Comparative Systems of Justice (2 qtr. hrs.)

A comparative examination of contemporary and historical systems of justice, retribution, and public and private conflict resolution with a focus on societal and individual rights and responsibilities. Both judicial and non-judicial systems fall within the scope of the course. The final grade will be based on weekly assignments and a paper on a topic to be agreed on. Each student will present their paper to the class, but the presentation will not affect the grade. Enrollment limited to 27.

9324 Complex Litigation (3 qtr. hrs.)

This course explores topics in the area of advanced civil procedure. The course deals with the applicable law governing complexities inherent in civil litigation due to a multiplicity of parties or other lawsuits. A large segment of the course will focus upon an in-depth examination of class action law. In addition, the course reviews other procedural devices (e.g., joinder rules, issue and claim preclusion, transfer, multidistrict litigation, and abstention) intended to deal with problems associated with multiple parties and/or lawsuits and the unnecessary duplication of adjudicative activities.

9383 Conflict of Laws (3 qtr. hrs.)

The study of the law applicable to transactions connected in whole or in part with two or more jurisdictions. The general problems connected with jurisdiction of courts, foreign judgments, the application of federal constitutional provisions, and the choice of law are considered together with the rules governing certain specific types of controversies arising in the fields of workers' compensation, torts, contracts, property, business organizations, and family law.

9360 Constitutional Law: Free Speech (3 qtr. hrs.)

Prerequisite: Constitutional Law: Individual Liberties

This course provides a deep dive into the First Amendment protection of Speech (and related protections like Freedom of the Press and Freedom of Association). Topics include: protected versus unprotected speech; the regulation of conduct imbued with elements of speech; the difference between content-based and content-neutral regulation of speech; the role of "forum analysis" in judging the constitutionality of restrictions on speech; the more deferential treatment of governmental regulation of commercial speech; the constitutional restrictions related to government speech, and the difference between government speech and government-compelled speech; regulation of speech in restrictive environments like schools, prisons, and the military; and an introduction to both press and associational freedoms.

9214 Construction Law (2 qtr. hrs.)

The many components and complexities of the construction industry offer an ideal setting for demonstrating how multiple areas of the law (contracts; procurement; torts, insurance, environmental concerns; dispute resolution, property (emphasis on lien law), administrative, regulatory, and labor law) interact and operate. This course will introduce students to a discipline that resembles the actual practice of law, where the practitioner is required to sort through and understand a plethora of integrated contract, common law, statutory and regulatory rules and requirements in order to assist clients.

9349 Consumer Protection (3 qtr. hrs.)

A study of consumer protection laws, with focus on the Texas Deceptive Trade Practices Act, warranty law, federal and state debt collection practices acts, and basic insurance law principles.

9316 Contract Drafting & Negotiation (3 qtr. hrs.)

Prerequisite: LARC 4: Transactional Drafting

This course will cover a variety of topics and skills related to a transactional practice and will build on the skills students learned in Legal Analysis, Research & Communication (LARC) 4: Transactional Drafting. Specifically, this course will include instruction on: fundamental contracting-drafting principles; the art of deal-making, including general negotiation skills and ethical negotiation; identifying how statutes and other regulations may affect a deal and negotiations; how to incorporate the business deal into a contract to effectively advance a client's interests; how to identify and mitigate risk through negotiation and drafting; problem solving through contract drafting; and drafting effective revisions to an agreement based on a series of hypothetical situations/issues. Students will complete several assignments throughout the quarter. Most of the assignments will focus on drafting revisions to various agreements. The final assignment will require students to draft a complete agreement while working with a classmate to negotiate deal terms.

9371 Copyright Law (3 qtr. hrs.)

Recommended prerequisite: Intellectual Property

An advanced study of the law of copyright, including the creation, infringement, licensing, protection, registration, renewal and termination of copyright in various creative products, such as books, films, art and music.

9384 Creditors' Remedies (3 qtr. hrs.)

This course will be an introductory study and examination of creditor-debtor relationships and concepts including non-judicial and judicial debt collection, prejudgment remedies, basic trial procedure, judgments, post-judgment remedies, judgment liens, execution, exemptions, asset discovery, statutory liens, fraudulent conveyances, foreign judgment enforcement and general bankruptcy issues (if time permits). This is intended to be a practical course that covers and discusses issues that a practicing creditor/collection attorney faces on a daily basis.

9156 Criminal Law Boot Camp (1 qtr. hr.)

A limited number of students may participate in a Criminal Law Boot Camp for one hour of pass/fail credit. The class must have a minimum of twelve students to make, and is limited to a maximum of 16 students. This course will introduce students to Texas state criminal practice through lectures and trial advocacy exercises. Faculty will be made up of prosecutors, criminal defense attorneys and judges. This course will greatly benefit those students who plan to participate in the PC criminal big trial case as it will expose them to the case theories and preparation skills that are essential for successful criminal prosecution and defense.

9158 Criminal Law Capstone (1 qtr. hr.)

Prerequisite or Corequisite: Criminal Law Boot Camp

In conjunction with the Practice Court 3 course, students enrolled in this capstone will be assigned a dual criminal / civil case requiring them to conduct a criminal PC "big trial" in addition to the standard civil PC "big trial". Both PC trials will be based on the same fact situation giving rise to a criminal prosecution occurring in parallel with a civil liability case. Students in this capstone will be required to navigate the various legal issues that arise with parallel criminal / civil proceedings, in consultation with faculty advisors. Attendance of a lecture on drafting search warrants is required.

Students are required to draft and submit a valid search warrant. This capstone is required for students pursuing the Criminal Practice Special Distinction.

9310 E-Commerce (3 qtr. hrs.)

This course explores the range of legal issues arising from the emergence of the Internet as a medium for transacting business. The course considers how the law has reacted to challenges posed by the Internet. Specific areas covered include jurisdictional analysis, First Amendment/free speech, digital copyrights, trademarks and domain names, electronic privacy, electronic commercial transactions, and Internet governance.

9248 Elder Law (2 qtr. hrs.)

Overview of the legal practice and policy relating to aging individuals and those with special needs. Issues covered are: ethics in representing the elderly, Social Security, Supplemental Social Security, Social Security Disability, Medicare, Medicaid, veterans benefits, property management issues, surrogate decision-making, guardianships and end-of-life decisions.

9362 Employment Discrimination (3 qtr. hrs.)

A study of employment discrimination law, including Title VII of the Civil Rights Act, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, and the Americans with Disabilities Act. This course entails a study of the major federal anti-discrimination laws, with particular emphasis on Title VII of the Civil Rights Act, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, and the Americans with Disabilities Act. Other statutes are addressed to a lesser degree, including the Civil Rights Act of 1866 and the Immigration Reform and Control Act.

9372 Employment Relations (3 qtr. hrs.)

This course surveys the law regulating the relationship between employers and their employees including the doctrine of "employment-at-will" and its erosion by federal and state statutes and common law; employee privacy issues; the protection of trade secrets; employee non-compete agreements; overtime and minimum wage laws; Texas Workers' Compensation Law, among other topics.

9230 Entertainment Law (2 qtr. hrs.)

A comprehensive introduction to the legal doctrines that shape the entertainment industry in its many forms. We will learn about the structure and "power relationships" within the industry including but not limited to the issues of credit/billing, creative control and the sale/transfer of creative talent or product.

9228, 9236, 9297 Environmental Agency Field Placements (Pass/Fail) (1-3 qtr. hrs.)

A one quarter field placement experience in one of the following environmental agencies upon approval by the Associate Dean: Environmental Protection Agency, Texas Commission on Environmental Quality, Texas Parks & Wildlife Department, General Land Office or Texas Railroad Commission.

9366 Environmental Law (3 qtr. hrs.)

An introduction to Environmental Law, focusing on major federal programs, key cases, and certain state issues related to these programs. Statutory programs include the Clean Air Act, Clean Water Act, and Resource Conservation and Recovery Act. Additionally, there is an emphasis on the federal Superfund statute (aka "CERCLA"). This course and the Natural Resource Protection Law course together provide a basic understanding of the history and legal principles of domestic environmental and natural resource protection laws.

9336 Estate Planning (3 qtr. hrs.)

Prerequisite: Trusts & Estates

A study of the federal transfer tax system, basic transfer tax planning for individuals and tax considerations in the drafting of wills and trusts. Estate, gift and generation-skipping tax problems are studied, and income tax problems related to estate planning are also covered. In this practice skills course students prepare estate tax returns and planning proposals for hypothetical clients.

9135 Extended Bar Preparation Skills (Pass/Fail) (1 qtr. hr.)

This course is to be taken by students in their third year, preferably just prior to beginning to take a commercial bar review course. This course is designed to jumpstart bar exam preparation by developing your substantive knowledge and sharpening your critical bar exam success skills. Specifically, students will receive in-depth review of highly tested topics in Contracts and Torts. Students will then put that knowledge to use working through practice MBE and essay questions. Students will learn how to develop a strong but flexible framework to resolve bar exam problems, sharpen reading comprehension, issue identification, rule mastery, critical thinking, and legal analysis skills. This course will also include skill training for the MPT. Please note— This course is not intended to and does not replace the need for a complete commercial bar review course. To fully prepare for the bar exam, you should plan to take a complete commercial bar review course prior to the bar exam.

9370 Family Law (3 qtr. hrs.)

This course focuses on the study of the law of the family, including marriage, annulment, divorce, child support and custody, paternity, and procedural aspects in family law cases. Students will focus on the constitutional protections for the family, the policy underpinnings of family law, as well as the black letter rules of family law with a focus on the Texas Family Code.

9380 Family Law: Advanced Family Law (3 qtr. hrs.)

Prerequisite: Family Law

In-depth study of: underlying and current legal problems and issues arising in an advanced family law practice, including: relevant evolution and current legal status of the marriage relationship and the current legal status of property and parent-child relationships in marriage and the family; case management and jurisdictional considerations arising from parent-child legal relationships across jurisdictional borders; privacy regulations implicit to family law property and party records use; legal status and rights of children or unmarried parents and of assisted and surrogate reproduction; termination and adoption procedures; and the practice of Collaborative and Cooperative law in dissolution.

9299 Family Law Advocacy & Procedure (2 qtr. hrs.)

Prerequisite: Trusts & Estates

Participatory practice examination of selected legal, substantive, procedural and practice considerations in the engagement, preparation and presentation of family law litigation involving dissolution of marriage and suits affecting the parent-child relationship. Basic advocacy training follows lecture presentations with mock courtroom time by class participants.

9139 Family Law Boot Camp (Pass/Fail) (1 qtr. hr)

Prerequisite: Family Law

This course will expose students to the real-world side of practicing family law in Texas. The course will provide 17 hours of in-class instruction with a mix of lecture, strategic breakout sessions, and mock trial experiences. The course will be held virtually and will simulate the real-world realities of practicing law during the pandemic. Students will complete the course with a better understanding of how a family law case proceeds through the court system from intake of the client through judgment and post-judgment issues.

9323 Federal Courts (3 qtr. hrs.)

A study of federal courts, with special emphasis on forum selection. Along with forum-selection doctrines such as subject-matter jurisdiction and abstention, the course explores other issues unique to our federal system, such as the Anti-Injunction Act and inter-jurisdictional preclusion. Throughout the course, attention remains on the proper role of the federal courts—in relation both to the other branches of the federal government and to the States.

9276 Franchising (2 qtr. hrs.)

A graded seminar course examining general franchise laws, agreements and the franchisee/franchisor relationship. An overall view of the franchise systems and the legal and business impact of various franchise related laws, both federal and state. Extensive review of a franchise agreement. Grades are based on final exam and short franchise related paper or project.

9285 Healthcare Fraud & Abuse (2 qtr. hrs.)

The health care industry is governed by complex statutory and regulatory requirements that impact operations, financing and the delivery of health care. A lawyer representing any type of health care entity must be knowledgeable in these areas since many are contrary to what is acceptable in all other industries. The focus of the course will be on federal and state anti-kickback, anti-referral (Stark), false claims and related fraud and abuse laws as well as corporate compliance issues. The civil and criminal penalty ramifications to the health care provider and lawyer will also be addressed.

9357 Healthcare Law (3 qtr. hrs.)

An overview of many aspects of health law. Topics include professional licensure, institutional quality control programs, cost containment, access to health care, the professional-patient relationship, federal and state fraud and abuse laws and various aspects of health care decision-making.

9277 Healthcare Litigation (2 qtr. hrs.)

An opportunity to examine the substantive and procedural concepts related to healthcare liability claims. In addition, the class provides exposure to evaluation of a healthcare liability claim, pre-trial preparation of plaintiff and defendant cases, and examination of expert witnesses. The class includes deposition exercises performed in connection with medical residents at the Family Practice Clinic.

9286 Healthcare: Regulation of Healthcare Professionals (2 qtr. hrs.)

Healthcare professionals are subject to extensive regulations in the delivery of care and the reimbursement for those services rendered. This course will analyze the relationship between health care entities and providers, federal and state governmental authorities, public and private payers and the laws and regulations affecting their activities. Areas to be addressed include licensure, peer review, patient care, Medicare/Medicaid and managed care, non-profit organizations, antitrust, and privacy issues implicated by the relationships.

9373 Immigration Law (3 qtr. hrs.)

Public interest has surged in immigration policy and frenetic change in immigration law. The central purpose of this course is to give students an understanding of the mechanisms by which persons may immigrate to the United States and the standards under which they can be denied entry or be removed. The course will examine issues pertaining to the acquisition of citizenship, the admission of aliens into the United States as immigrants or migrants, the deportation of aliens, the admission of refugees, and recent changes related to national security.

9V99 Independent Studies in Law (1-2 qtr. hrs.)

Independent study leading to a research paper, or its equivalent, by students under the direct supervision of one or more faculty members. Either one or two hours of credit will be granted upon satisfactory conclusion of the independent study offering. Independent studies will be offered on a letter grade basis only. Proposals for study must be approved by the Associate Dean designee prior to registration for this course.

9222 Information Privacy Law (2 qtr. hrs.)

This course is a general survey and analysis of privacy issues that are the direct result of advances in technology. Topics discussed will include: (1) Internet privacy, including issues related to anonymity, commercial profiling and spam; (2) Health and genetic privacy, including issues relating to medical records, confidentiality of physician-patient relationships, DNA databases and genetic discrimination; (3) Law enforcement privacy, including issues related to wiretapping, surveillance, and counter-terrorism and post 9/11 reactions.

9266 In-House Counsel Externship Program

Prerequisite: Business Organization 1

The In-House Counsel Externship Program serves as an introduction to in-house counsel practice by exposing the student to in-house practice in a real-world setting as well as in a classroom setting. Students participating in this program will earn a total of 2 hours of credit through a one-hour field placement and a one-hour class. In the field placement component, students will spend a minimum of 72 hours observing and working under the supervision of an in-house lawyer in the private sector. The classroom component of the In-House Counsel Externship Program will focus on substantive issues commonly encountered by in-house counsel in corporate law departments as well as ethical issues and practical skills, such as working with outside counsel, identifying and dealing with conflicts of interest, preserving attorney-client privilege in the in-house context, drafting and negotiating contracts, and conducting internal investigations.

9341 Insurance Law (3 qtr. hrs.)

A study of property, life and liability insurance, including the process of contract formation, coverage, defenses, amount of recovery, subrogation, and the litigation relationship between the insurer and the insured.

9264 Intellectual Property (2 qtr. hrs.)

A survey of the law regarding the formation and protection of rights in intangible property and unfair trade practices of businesses. Subjects covered include a survey of copyright and patent law as well as a detailed study of trademark, trade secret and unfair competition law. Advanced courses in copyright and patent law are also available.

9164 Intellectual Property Capstone (1 qtr. hr.)

Prerequisites: Trademark Practice & Disputes, Copyright Law, E-Commerce, Intellectual Property, Patent Law, Intellectual Property Litigation

This capstone is the culminating experience in the Intellectual Property Area of Concentration. The course will focus on skills development, which will provide students the opportunity to both learn how to conduct an appropriate client analysis as well as apply substantive law to the drafting, reviewing and negotiating of intellectual property-related agreements.

9106 Intellectual Property Clinic (1 qtr. hr.)

Prerequisite: Intellectual Property

Pre/Co-requisite for Patent Clinic: Patent Practice & Disputes

Pre/Co-requisite for Trademark Clinic: Trademark Practice & Disputes

The Intellectual Property Clinic at Baylor Law School teaches students how to file applications before the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO). The clinic offers such limited legal services on a pro-bono basis to entrepreneurs, small business and non-profits that do not have the means to hire an attorney to advise them. Clinic participation requires enrollment and participation in weekly class meetings that focus on the lawyering skills and substantive law necessary to effectively represent clients.

9125 Intellectual Property Litigation (1 qtr. hr.)

Prerequisites: Intellectual Property, Patent Law, Patent Practice & Disputes, Trademark Practice & Disputes

A survey of the unique issues and elements of an intellectual property lawsuit. Topics covered include assessing whether a lawsuit is the proper course of action and the risks of litigation, conducting pre-suit investigations, selecting expert witnesses, drafting pleadings, conducting pretrial activities, discovery, evidentiary challenges, trial preparation and appellate procedures. To be taken in conjunction with Practice Court 3.

9221 Intellectual Property: Trademark Law & Unfair Competition (2 qtr. hrs.)

This course provides an overview of trademark and unfair competition law. The course will cover the requirements to obtain trademark protection in the U.S., false advertising, right of publicity and state unfair competition laws.

9262 Intellectual Property: Trademark Practice & Disputes (2 qtr. hrs.)

Prerequisite: Intellectual Property or Trademark Law & Unfair Competition

A follow-up to the Intellectual Property course. The focus is on practice skills needed for the intellectual property lawyer, with a heavy emphasis on trademark law.

An introduction to international business transactions. Topics include sources of law; comparing legal traditions; documentary sales of goods; the Convention on the International Sale of Goods (CISG); exporting; international IP licensing; international distributorships and joint ventures; and foreign direct investment.

9288 International Trade Law (2 qtr. hrs.)

A study of the international and national regulation of trade in goods. Topics include United States import, export and other trade regulations, and bi-lateral and multi-lateral trade agreements and organizations (e.g., NAFTA, the World Trade Organization, etc.). Other topics include "Fast Track," countervailing duty and antidumping laws; preference programs (e.g., GSP); ITAR; FCPA, anti-boycott laws; trade sanctions and embargoes, safeguards and quotas; economic integration among countries; and the linkage of trade and diplomacy.

9294, 9296 Judicial Field Placement (Pass/Fail) (2 qtr. hrs.)

A one-quarter field placement experience under the supervision of a judge in a designated court when approved in advance by the Associate Dean. A minimum of 90 hours of supervised work will be required.

9289 Jurisprudence (Pass/Fail) (2 qtr. hrs.)

A fundamental survey course in current and historical legal philosophy, including the nature and sources of law, the relationships of law and morality, of law to society, and of law within the context of history. Enrollment limited to 18.

9254 Juvenile Justice (2 qtr. hrs.)

A study of all stages of the juvenile justice system, including intake, certification, adjudication, and disposition.

9208 Labor Law Seminar (2 qtr. hrs.)

A study of the law and current issues regarding labor relations, including union elections, the negotiation and administration of collective bargaining agreements, unfair labor practices, and dispute settlement. Particular attention is paid to the National Labor Relations Act. The final grade is based on a project and related paper.

9V91 Law Review (Pass/Fail)

Law Review credit is awarded to students who are selected to participate in the Baylor Law Review, and who accomplish a stated amount of writing acceptable for publication or service on the staff of the Law Review. Students interested in taking Law Review credit hours should consult with the Law Review Business Editor to determine the number of hours they are eligible to take.

9119 Legal Clinics (Pass/Fail)

Students who have served as a volunteer for any of the Law School legal clinics for a minimum of 45 hours after approval by and under the supervision of the Director of Clinical Programs or a faculty member, and who have attended the required classroom instructional component, may be eligible to earn pass-fail credit. There are specific prerequisites for the Intellectual Property clinic. Consult with Prof. Connie Nichols as early as possible if interested in the Intellectual Property Clinic. Students interested other clinics should consult with the Director of Clinical Programs.

9206 Leadership Engagement and Development (LEAD) (Pass/Fail) (2 qtr. hrs.)

Throughout history, lawyers have played critical leadership roles in both the public and private sector. In every aspect of American Society, lawyers lead and Baylor Lawyers in particular are known for actively serving in leadership capacities in their communities and the legal profession. While leadership training is part of the fabric of Baylor Law School, specific emphasis and training is important and helpful to adequately equip our graduates with the leadership skills they will need in an increasingly complex and ever-changing professional environment. Topics will include leadership styles and strategies, personality assessments, public service and professional responsibilities, and leadership opportunities for lawyers. Using case studies, students will discuss leadership lessons learned by experienced leaders through challenging circumstances. Using introspective tools and team-building exercises, students boost strengths and minimize weaknesses to better equip them for their future. Mandatory attendance for each class plus a ropes course.

9123 Military Justice (1 qtr. hr.)

This course explores the nature and function of military justice today. Topics will include the constitutional rights of military personnel, court-martial jurisdiction and offenses, trial and appellate structure and procedure, the roles of commanders, Congress, the Supreme Court, and the President, command influence, the role of custom and courtesy, and punishment. Throughout the course, issues of professional responsibility, how the military justice system can be improved, and what, if anything, can be learned from the experience of other countries will be considered.

9265 Municipal Government (2 qtr. hrs.)

A study of the creation, expansion, powers and operations of municipalities as well as limitations on municipal authority, and issues relating to municipal liability.

9309 Natural Resource Protection Law (3 qtr. hrs.)

An introduction to key natural resource protection laws and their respective application in the United States. Federal statutory programs and significant case law are focal points, along with impacts and examples from Texas. Topics include the National Environmental Policy Act, public lands, wildlife protection (especially the Endangered Species Act), and certain water resources. There is also some discussion of alternative energy sources. This course and Environmental Law together provide a basic understanding of the history and legal principles of domestic environmental and natural resource protection laws.

9290 Negotiation Settlement & Practice (2 qtr. hrs.)

This course is structured as one companion and complementary to Practice Court 3, and in doing so simulates actual practice. It is limited to 20 students. As lawyers prepare for the final trial in a case, many preliminary matters occur, including the use of negotiation and mediation. This course will examine those processes in detail and consider their use at each stage of the pretrial process, as well as use in attempting a final resolution or settlement in advance of the trial. Students must be enrolled in Practice Court or have taken the course.

9211 Nonprofit Organizations (2 qtr. hrs.)

A study of nonprofit organizations, including an examination of their organization, operation, governance, and dissolution. Topics include practical issues faced by nonprofit organizations and attorneys who represent them, such as state and federal regulations, tax issues relating to tax-exempt status and eligibility for charitable contributions, liability of decision makers, tort liabilities of the organization and its members, planning to avoid litigation, and charitable immunity.

9249 Oil & Gas Law (2 qtr. hrs.)

This course covers the basics of Texas oil & gas law likely to be encountered in a Texas law practice. Whether a student intends to practice litigation, family law, estate and probate, real estate law, or any other practice, oil & gas issues likely will be encountered. The course will prepare the student to spot oil & gas issues, negotiate oil & gas leases, handle surface use disputes, and understand severing the mineral estate from the surface estate.

9251 Oil & Gas: Advanced Oil & Gas Law (2 qtr. hr.)

Prerequisite: Oil & Gas Law

This course covers advanced oil & gas concepts and expands on the basic principles covered in Oil & Gas Law. Students will learn document drafting techniques and as part of the course work will be assigned documents to prepare and review that an attorney dealing with oil & gas matters would expect to encounter in practice. Some topics to be covered include advanced lease provisions; joint operating agreements; financing of oil and gas transactions; mineral and royalty conveyances; pipeline issues; and regulation of oil and gas activities.

9223 Patent Law (2 qtr. hrs.)

A study of patent law, with an emphasis on patent applications, interferences and other practical aspects of a patent practice, including international patent protection.

9119 Patent Litigation Capstone (1 qtr. hr.) (credit/no credit)

Pre or Co-requisite: Practice Court 3

Prerequisite: Patent Law (preferred), Patent Practice & Disputes; students who do not have the prerequisites may visit with Prof. David Henry regarding the possibility of waiving the prerequisites. To be taken during or after completion of Practice Court 3, students enrolling in this capstone will participate in a patent "big trial." Students will prepare for and conduct the separate Markman hearing of a patent case, trying the case to a jury. Students will fully work through the Markman hearing aspect of the patent "big trial," including related discovery on claim construction. Interested students should consult with Prof. Wren and the Practice Court Associate at their earliest convenience after they are enrolled in Practice Court 1.

9260 Patent Practice & Disputes (2 qtr. hrs.)

Prerequisite: Patent Law

This course will focus on the advanced study of patent law, with an emphasis on patent applications, interferences and other practical aspects of a patent practice, including the unique issues and elements of patent litigation. Topics covered include desired qualifications and experience for litigating patent cases, pre-suit investigation for patentees, substantive elements of a patent case, infringement and invalidity contentions, claim construction and Markman Hearings, expert witness considerations, trial technology options, trial strategies, jury considerations, damage models, alternative dispute resolution options, and appellate work.

9174 Personal Injury Trial Law (Pass/Fail) (1 qtr. hr.)

A study of the aspects of investigation, evaluation, preparation, settlement, and trial of personal injury cases.

9255 Post Conviction Procedure: Criminal Appeals (2 qtr. hrs.)

An advanced criminal procedure course with a practical focus on representing clients in criminal appeals and in habeas corpus proceedings. Course will include an appellate oral argument.

9259 Post Conviction Procedure: Sentencing (2 qtr. hrs.)

A study of state and federal sentencing covering both substance and procedure, including federal guideline sentencing, Texas sentencing law, and state and federal sentencing hearings.

9267 Poverty Law (2 qtr. hrs.)

A foundational course for those interested in the Public Service professional track, Poverty Law will analyze the realities of existence for the underprivileged, constitutional issues underlying policy reform, and a study of federal programs as they relate to access to work and family.

9138 Preparing for a Federal Clerkship (Pass/Fail) (1 qtr. hr.)

Students who take this course will acquire knowledge, skills and values about the federal court system and judicial deliberation process that will make them effective, chamber-ready judicial law clerks. Attendance is mandatory at all class sessions. A limited number of students who take this class may pursue a one-hour field placement opportunity with U.S. District Judge Alan Albright or U.S. Magistrate Judge Jeff Manske. Students interested in the field placement component must be registered for the course and must notify Assistant Dean Angela Cruseturner of their interest during the registration period. Students may also be considered for the field placement in a later quarter. Consult with Assistant Dean Cruseturner for more information about the field placement.

9140 Preparing for Appellate Practice (1 qtr. hr.)

As part of the course, the student will become fluent in the basic elements of an appeal. Students will learn about the anatomy of an appeal, basic court structure and operation, what justices and clerks do, and to draft bench memos and opinions. The class will provide a basic primer on civil and criminal appeals, and hear from a panel of current and former clerks and/or justices. Schedule permitting, the class will also observe oral arguments, either in person or remotely and discuss the effect of advocacy on case outcomes. Offered in conjunction with an associated externship opportunity, the course will prepare the student for an appellate clerkship. The course will provide the student with the information and skills to excel on the first day of an appellate clerkship. Students who take this class will develop written advocacy skills by preparing draft bench memoranda and opinions for a fictional case.

9253 Prosecutorial Field Placement (District Attorney) (Pass/Fail) (2 qtr. hrs.)

An opportunity to observe and assist state prosecutors in preparing cases for trial and appeal, allowing the students to apply knowledge learned in substantive courses as well as to gain an appreciation for the practical aspects of prosecution. This field placement should be taken, if possible, after completing the courses in Advanced Criminal Procedure or Criminal Practice & Procedure. A minimum of 90 hours of supervised work will be required.

9284 Prosecutorial Field Placement (Federal Prosecutor's Office) (Pass/Fail) (2 qtr. hrs.)

An opportunity to observe and assist federal prosecutors in preparing cases for trial and appeal, allowing the students to apply knowledge learned in substantive courses as well as to gain an appreciation for the practical aspects of prosecution. This field placement should be taken, if possible, after completing the courses in Advanced Criminal Procedure or Criminal Practice & Procedure. A minimum of 90 hours of supervised work will be required.

9338 Real Estate Finance (3 qtr. hrs.)

A study of residential and commercial real estate transactions including mortgage law, sources and forms of financing, conveying processes, basic tax considerations, workouts and the roles of the real estate broker and the lender or investor.

9217 Real Estate: Land Use Regulation (2 qtr. hrs.)

Land Use Regulation is a course covering eminent domain and other practical land use planning topics. The course will help students become familiar with legal considerations in working with government agencies, land developers, and land owners. The course covers various topics including conservation easements, common interest communities and zoning. However, eminent domain and the specific Texas statutes that have been added in the post-Kelo era is a primary focus of the course occupying at least a third of the classes. Additionally, students are given an assignment that focuses on the interaction of eminent domain and zoning issues as land use changes over time. The course offers both considerations of policy matters as well as practical application of the concepts in real-world settings.

9331 Real Estate: Texas Title Issue (3 qtr. hrs.)

A study of selected problems of Texas land law. The course includes material on contracts of sale, title examination, foreclosure issues related to title, and judicial procedures relating to land titles. Drawing a metes and bounds description of real property, a title opinion letter, and foreclosure assessment are required written exercises.

9272 Retirement Law (2 qtr. hrs.)

A study of the legal aspects of retirement plans, including an introduction to the different types of retirement plans, qualified and non-qualified retirement plans, the Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA), plans for the self-employed, individual retirement accounts, spousal rights, and the rules relating to contributions to and the distribution and taxation of retirement benefits, with an emphasis on the estate planning aspects.

9308 Sales Transactions: Domestic & International Law (3 qtr. hrs.)

Sales Transactions is an advanced course in contracts focusing on the regulation of domestic sales transactions under Article 2 of the Uniform Commercial Code and international sales transactions governed by the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sales of Goods. The course builds on the first year Contracts course, developing in more detail the scope of statutory regulation, the acceptance and rejection of goods, contract interpretation in business transactions, warranty liability, damage rules, risk of loss, and commercial impracticability

9344 Securities Regulation (3 qtr. hrs.)

Prerequisite: Business Organizations 1 (This requirement may be waived for students with appropriate business background.)

Following the examination of the definition of a security and transactions that are exempted from registration with the Securities and Exchange Commission, a study of the disclosure, registration and distribution process as regulated by the Securities Act of 1933 and civil remedies for a violation of the Act.

9279 Separation of Church & State (2 qtr. hrs.)

Prerequisite: Constitutional Law

This course examines the relations between religion and government in the United States and emphasizes the U.S. Supreme Court's jurisprudence under the First Amendment's Establishment and Free-Exercise Clauses.

9361 Sports Law (3 qtr. hrs.)

A survey of current issues and events in sports law such as Title 9 developments, concussions, financial aid advancements, agent regulation, antitrust litigation (student-athlete name, likeness and image cases) and labor law disputes. The course features a number of presentations by national figures and experts on such issues.

9226 Supreme Court Seminar (2 qtr. hrs.)

A limited enrollment seminar (18 students) in which students assume the role of United States Supreme Court justices. The seminar entails arguing and deciding cases currently pending before the Supreme Court. Once decided, a student is assigned to write the Court's opinion. Each student is responsible for one substantial majority opinion and may draft concurring or dissenting opinions for extra credit. The grade is based on both the written component (opinion) and oral participation. Attendance at all class meetings is mandatory.

9345 Taxation of Individuals & Family Businesses (3 qtr. hrs.)

Prerequisite: Taxation & Accounting Principles for Lawyers

Continues the study of the general principles of federal income tax law begun in Taxation & Accounting Principles for Lawyers with primary emphasis on income taxation of individual investors, small business owners, and the family unit. Topics include advanced coverage of inclusions and exclusions from gross income; business, investment, and personal deductions and their restrictions; disposition of assets; residential properties; tax accounting methods; related party limitations; deferral and non-recognition provisions; and tax rate strategies.

9346 Taxation of Business Entities (3 qtr. hrs.)

Prerequisite: Taxation & Accounting Principles for Lawyers

This survey course examines the tax consequences of organizing and operating business entities in a comparative manner. Basic federal tax principles of C corporations, S corporations, and partnerships (including limited liability companies) are covered. With each tax entity type, students begin with the tax consequences of organizing and operating the business entity and then study the tax consequences of distributions, sales of business assets, transfers of ownership interests, and business entity liquidations and conversions. Topics also include debt versus equity considerations, employment tax issues, tax provisions in shareholder and partnership agreements and other business contracts, and basic mergers and acquisitions tax concepts.

9352 Texas Criminal Practice & Procedure (3 qtr. hrs.)

This class will introduce students to the rules and strategies and procedures that govern the practice of criminal law in Texas. Because the vast majority of state criminal practitioners get their start representing the State, the emphasis will be a road map to understanding the practice of criminal law from the prosecution standpoint. Topics covered will include charging decisions, docket management, pre-trial preparation, plea bargaining, motion practice, the punishment and sentencing phase of the trial, Michael Morton/Brady, discovery and interaction with crime victims, blind cross-examination, closing arguments, and expert witnesses.

9107 Entrepreneurship Clinic (1 qtr. hr.)

Prerequisite: Business Organizations 1 (this requirement may be waived for students with appropriate business background).

This course will provide students an opportunity to work with early stage businesses in the Waco area and provide legal advice and services primarily pertaining to business formation and commercial agreements. Students will be provided training, high-quality resources (checklists, forms, etc.) and supervision by professors or other experienced attorneys to help ensure an exciting and practical learning experience, while helping growing businesses in the Waco area. Students will learn to draft a number of documents/agreements, including certificates of formation, bylaws, written consents, consulting agreements, operating agreements and proprietary information and invention assignment agreements.

9118 Transactional Law Practice Lab (1 qtr. hr.)

Prerequisite: Business Organizations 1

This practice lab will introduce students to the types of issues and documents they may encounter during a transactional practice through the scope of a hypothetical transaction. Students will work in pairs and will be assigned to represent one of the two parties in a proposed transaction. Students will receive instruction and guidance on substantive issues involved in the transaction problem as well as negotiation skills applicable to transactional practice generally. A drafting requirement will be included in the class, and the class will culminate in negotiation rounds between class members representing the two sides of the transaction. Enrollment is limited.

9220 Trial Advocacy: Beginning Advocacy Skills (2 qtr. hrs.)

Students who have taken Practice Court, School of the Trial, or Advanced School of the Trial are ineligible to receive credit for this course.

This course seeks to provide students with a foundation in the art of trial advocacy prior to more advanced training in Practice Court. Course methodology includes class discussion, group planning, performance drills and group critique. Subjects for study include developing a theory and theme of the issue; storytelling skills, as applied to opening statement; direct examination skills; planning of cross-examination and cross-examination techniques. Grades are assigned based upon class participation, written exercises and performance skills.

9530 Trial Advocacy: Advanced School of the Trial (Academy of the Advocate Study Abroad Program) (5 qtr. hrs.)

The Advanced School of Trial ("ASOT") was created for experienced mock trial students. The ASOT's objective is to focus on and sharpen advanced trial skills and techniques through several advocacy exercises and trials. This class is part of our study abroad program in Scotland. Students who have taken Advanced Trial Advocacy Skills Seminar are not eligible to take this course.

9263 Trial Advocacy: Advanced Trial Preparation (2 qtr. hrs.)

Prerequisite: Practice Court 1

Enrollment is limited to 16 students who will be simultaneously taking PC 3. Selection of students will be made by the Practice Court instructors on the basis of grades of Practice Court skills, exercises, and the judgment of the instructors, with additional preference given to students whose Practice Court teammate is also seeking enrollment in the class (in order that Advanced Trial Preparation projects may be undertaken on a team basis). The Practice Court Big Trial case will be the subject of the projects, and the projects will include development of your framing strategy for trial, use of focus groups for trial, development of your visual strategy for trial, and conducting of videotaped dispositions. The class will conclude prior to trial of the big case.

9523 Trial Advocacy: School of the Appeal (5 qtr. hrs.) (Academy of the Advocate Study Abroad Program)

The School of the Appeal focuses on the art and craft of both oral and written appellate advocacy. Students will receive classroom instruction on both written and oral appellate advocacy. Classroom instruction will be followed by joint student/faculty planning and outlining sessions and will culminate in the drafting and critiquing of written appellate arguments as well as the presentation and critique of oral appellate arguments. The School of the Appeal is also designed to place the role of the appellate lawyer in the context of the long and shared history and traditions of the British and American legal systems. This will also include corresponding field trips focused on the development of democracy, the jury trial, and the right to appeal.

9522 Trial Advocacy: School of the Trial (5 qtr. hrs.) (Academy of the Advocate Study Abroad Program)

The School of the Trial focuses on the art of trial advocacy. Students will be provided with classroom instruction and small group discussion opportunities on all facets, from jury selection to closing argument, of being ethical, persuasive trial advocates. Storytelling as a method of persuasion will be a central theme of the School of the Trial and the history, architecture, and idyllic setting of St Andrews will be used as both a striking setting for storytelling exercises and as a compelling example of the power of the spoken word. The School of the Trial is also designed to place the role of the trial lawyer in the context of the long and shared history and traditions of the British and American legal systems.

9V93 Zambia Juvenile Justice Field Placement (2 qtr. hrs.)

Students chosen for this unique field placement will spend 30 days in Zambia doing legal work under the direction of lawyers working for UP Zambia (see www.upzambia.org), a non-profit legal services organization dedicated to representing juveniles charged with crimes under Zambian law. Students will assist Zambian lawyers in meeting directly with minors detained in adult prisons, accompanying them to court, and, if necessary, writing their appeals. Students will also have the opportunity to participate in recreational visits (chess, soccer, music/karaoke) with UP Zambia clients in prisons and reform schools. The field placement also includes a field trip to Victoria Falls, one of the 7 modern natural wonders of the world, and a visit to a game park in neighboring Botswana.

9313 Water Law (3 qtr. hrs.)

A study of water law legal systems in the United States related to ownership, rights of use, and public rights in surface water and groundwater. Surface water systems include prior appropriation schemes in most western states and riparian rights based systems in eastern states, as well as several groundwater rights legal doctrines. The course also includes certain federalism topics, such as the public trust doctrine and interstate allocation of waters, and a focused study of Texas Water Law.

9332 Wealth Transfers (3 qtr. hrs.)

Prerequisite: Trusts & Estates

Increasingly, the focus of private or individual wealth planning is on asset protection (i.e., planning to insulate the client's estate from the claims of creditors at any time and claims of spouses upon the termination of the marriage, as well as to minimize or eliminate transfer taxes upon death). This course examines the use, implementation and effectiveness of the more common estate planning techniques, such as Bypass and QTIP trusts created for the benefit of the client's surviving spouse, asset protection trusts created for the benefit of the client's descendants, premarital and marital agreements among the client and the client's significant other, and family limited partnerships among members of the client's family. The course also covers the keys to effective drafting of wills, revocable trusts and other estate planning documents, as well as the coordination of non-probate assets (such as life insurance and retirement benefits) with the estate plan.

9142 Wealth Transfers Capstone (CR/NC) (1 qtr. hr.)

Prerequisites: Trusts & Estates and Wealth Transfers

Upon completion of Wealth Transfers, the student enrolls in a capstone course which provides the student with the opportunity to work one on one with a faculty member in order to apply through drafting exercises what the student learned in the substantive course and also to experience the types of problems lawyers in this area of the law handle on a routine basis.

9351 White Collar Crime (3 qtr. hrs.)

A study of corporate criminal liability and personal liability in the organizational setting, focusing on federal statutory and regulatory offenses that are frequently prosecuted in the business or corporate setting such as mail fraud, wire fraud, bank fraud, money laundering, RICO, tax crimes and obstruction of justice.

Seminar Courses

From time to time, as faculty time is available and student demand indicates, seminar courses may be offered. These courses are for second- and third-year students and carry one or two quarter hours of credit. They are designed to promote a depth of understanding in particular subjects of law and public policy and to afford students a perspective on law and lawyers.

Hankamer School of Business Courses

Upon approval by the Associate Dean, the following courses, offered in the Hankamer School of Business, may be taken by qualified law students for pass/fail credit toward the JD degree.

Accounting 5361 Corporate Taxation (Pass/Fail)

Prerequisite(s): Admission to MACC or MTAX program; or consent of instructor.

Executive LL.M. in Litigation Management: Course Descriptions

Required Courses for the LL.M.

9115 Applying Technology to Litigation Management (1 qtr. hr.)

This course is a survey of technology trends and issues that are currently, or may in the future, affect litigation management.

9334 Business Strategy and Processes in Litigation Management (3 qtr. hrs.)

This course covers a broad range of topics important to law firms and in-house legal departments, including the rapidly-changing manner in which legal services are delivered, the need of law firms to make a reasonable profit to survive, and the pressure on in-house legal departments to reduce spending. Given advances in technology, socioeconomics, demographics, and both globality and "glocality" issues, the delivery of legal services is rapidly changing. This course will explore the reasons for rapid change, the basic nature of changes, and lawyer personality traits that may impede or support change.

9215 Case Assessment Techniques (2 qtr. hrs.)

Effective case assessments are foundational to effective litigation management. This course will equip candidates to utilize early case assessment (ECA), decision tree analysis (DTA), and multiple forms of focus group jury testing.

9216 Cybersecurity in Litigation Management (2 qtr. hrs.)

As the world becomes more digitally interconnected and technology-driven, businesses and consumers are increasingly vulnerable to cyber threats. Regardless of your industry, the security of sensitive information is top priority. This program will provide you a fundamental understanding of cybersecurity and privacy law as it relates to your role in litigation management. You will also learn from some of the nation's foremost cybersecurity experts how to effectively manage risks to a client's most sensitive information, and how to quickly and decisively respond to threats.

9238 Data Analytics for Litigation (2 qtr. hrs.)

This course enables students to identify how data and data analytics can be useful in the practice of litigation management.

9120 Ethical Issues in Litigation Management (1 qtr. hr.)

Complex litigation, whether very large cases or very large dockets of smaller cases, presents unique ethical issues. This course will discuss those ethical issues and help students successfully navigate them.

9130 Forum Issues Affecting Major Litigation (1 qtr. hr.)

Lawyers often spend much time litigating about where to litigate. This one-hour course explores (1) why parties might prefer federal or state court; and (2) an overview of the doctrines that govern who wins the forum fight. In particular, we'll review the major grants of federal subject-matter jurisdiction. We will also explore an overlooked but surprisingly recurring issue: what happens when parties find themselves fighting the same (or similar) lawsuits in different forums.

9137 Fundamentals of Litigation Management (1 qtr. hrs.)

This is the introductory survey course to expose candidates to vital principles and tools in the strategic management of litigation, including application of data analytics, information management and cybersecurity, key emerging technologies, application of business processes and metrics to litigation, case and risk management, jury testing, litigation project management, discovery management including developments in electronic discovery, economic strategies in litigation, and management of complex litigation.

9136 Issues in Management of Complex Litigation (1 qtr. hr.)

This course will cover the unique issues in managing complex litigation, such as those found in forum selection, multi-district litigation, class actions, and mass torts.

9250 Insurance in Litigation Management: Coverage and Analysis (2 qtr. hrs.)

Candidates focus on the fundamentals of insurance claim valuation and reservation for risk, with specific focus on advanced issues of coverage, notice and tender, reservation of rights, declaratory relief, right to independent counsel, bad faith, and potential excess coverage and liability.

9108 Litigation Crisis Management (1 qtr. hr.)

This course will prepare students to be prepared for, and to properly handle, a litigation crisis for their company and/or their clients. The course is designed primarily to educate in-house counsel; however, it will provide both education and insights for outside counsel, also.

9121 Litigation Funding (1 qtr. hr.)

In the modern world of litigation, the options are growing rapidly for litigation finance by outside parties, in which the capital necessary for litigation is provided in return for a share of the recovery if successful. This course introduces and contrasts consumer litigation funding and commercial litigation funding, as well as new crowdfunding and insurance alternatives that may satisfy some of the same objectives, and then focuses primarily on commercial litigation funding alternatives and issues for litigation management.

9304 Litigation Project Management and Process Improvement (3 qtr. hrs.)

This course covers the interrelationship between litigation project management, process improvement, and value-based billing.

9233 Management of Complex Arbitration and Negotiation Issues (2 qtr. hrs.)

This course focuses on the mechanics of arbitration and the distinctions between complex arbitration and the litigation process. It addresses the different perspectives and roles of each participant in an arbitration process, the language of common arbitration agreements and the operative language of each such agreement. This course also addresses international dispute arbitrations, class action arbitrations and the strategies and mechanics of settlement of large multi-plaintiff claims.

9431 Management of Electronic Discovery (4 qtr. hrs.)

Increasingly, attorneys are becoming "general contractors" when it comes to certain highly technical areas of the law. This is certainly true of the practice of eDiscovery. Unless you have chosen to make eDiscovery the focus of your practice, you will most likely instead be charged with assembling and then managing the right team of attorney specialists, technologists, and allied professionals who will conduct the eDiscovery components of cases on your behalf and under your direction. Any attorney serving in such a capacity will need to know enough about the law and technical aspects of eDiscovery to assemble the right team, keep costs under control, and ensure that legal and ethical obligations to clients, the court, and opponents are met and discharged. This course endeavors to impart such "general contractor" knowledge and expertise.

9218 Management of Regulatory Investigations (2 qtr. hrs.)

This course explores the unique issues associated with corporate internal investigations by outside counsel. Particular consideration will be given to the scope of the engagement, the collection and evaluation of evidence, privilege issues, and the preparation of reports.

9109 Privilege Issues Affecting Litigation Management (1 qtr. hr.)

This course teaches students to recognize privilege-related problems they will face in managing litigation. Students will review the most important privileges, studying the general rule of the privilege and waiver issues including those encountered in healthcare matters. Additionally, students will study the issues arising when the cases they manage proceed in multiple jurisdictions with differing privilege rules.

9232 Proving and Attacking Damages (2 qtr. hrs.)

Law schools teach remedies but devote very little time to proving or attacking damages. The ability to assess, predict, discover, and compel evidence to prove or attack damages at trial, however, is vital to litigation management and strategy. This program will provide key skills for creating damage stories and theories, defending against damages claims, handling experts, assessing risk, and ultimately handling damages at trial.

9129 Research Project Phase 1 (1 qtr. hr.)

This writing and research component of the LL.M. program is intended to help candidates develop their interests that coincide with a primary focus of their LL.M. studies. Building upon the course work and discussions with experts, candidates will complete a written paper on a litigation management topic in which they wish to gain specialized expertise during and after the LL.M. program. The subjects and materials covered in Fundamentals of Litigation Management course are designed to serve as a springboard for identifying a potential topic.

9111 Research Project Phase 2 (1 qtr. hr.)

This writing and research component of the LL.M. program is intended to help candidates develop their interests that coincide with a primary focus of their LL.M. studies. Building upon the course work and discussions with experts, candidates will complete a written paper on a litigation management topic in which they wish to gain specialized expertise during and after the LL.M. program. The subjects and materials covered in Fundamentals of Litigation Management course are designed to serve as a springboard for identifying a potential topic.

Research Project Phase 3

This writing and research component of the LL.M. program is intended to help candidates develop their interests that coincide with a primary focus of their LL.M. studies. Building upon the course work and discussions with experts, candidates will complete a written paper on a litigation management topic in which they wish to gain specialized expertise during and after the LL.M. program. The subjects and materials covered in Fundamentals of Litigation Management course are designed to serve as a springboard for identifying a potential topic.

9112 Research Project Phase 4 (1 qtr. hr.)

This writing and research component of the LL.M. program is intended to help candidates develop their interests that coincide with a primary focus of their LL.M. studies. Building upon the course work and discussions with experts, candidates will complete a written paper on a litigation management topic in which they wish to gain specialized expertise during and after the LL.M. program. The subjects and materials covered in Fundamentals of Litigation Management course are designed to serve as a springboard for identifying a potential topic.

Elective Courses for the LL.M.

Advanced Litigation Issues (choose one):

9128 International Issues in Litigation Management (1 qtr. hr.)

Today's global and interconnected economies mean more litigation – and discovery – may take place in countries other than the "home office" of the client. This course addresses managing litigation across borders, whether representing a U.S. client in a foreign jurisdiction or a foreign client in a U.S. court. Of special focus are international data privacy, security, and transfer issues – all of which represent unique obligations and challenges for the U.S. client operating abroad.

9117 Management of Expert Witnesses (1 qtr. hr.)

Expert witnesses are ubiquitous in litigation in state and federal courts. Some commentators estimate that experts testify in 85% of American trials, and the percentage is certainly near 100 for complex commercial cases and tort claims with technical or scientific issues. Moreover, experts can have an outsized effect on the course of trials. Litigators are familiar with the articulate, professorial witness in the tweed jacket who takes over the courtroom and, ultimately, the jury's view of the case. A cottage industry of expert testifiers has arisen, with expert referral services listing thousands of candidates in hundreds of categories. In response, courts and legislatures have enacted rules to control expert testimony, both through discovery procedures and limits on admissibility. This course examines the current state of the use of expert witnesses, focused on pretrial matters, from selection through discovery and including the gatekeeping procedures now available to courts and litigants.

APPENDICES

RULES ON ACADEMIC PROBATION AND DISMISSAL Juris Doctor (October, 2019)

I. Academic Probation

A. Academic Enhancement

Students with a grade point average of 2.4 or lower at the end of the third quarter of Law School are required to take five (5) of the following seven (7) courses prior to Graduation. For students who matriculated in a summer quarter, this determination will be made following the fourth quarter of study (after LARC 3 grades have been recorded):

Course Number	Course Name	Credit Hours
9235	Administration of Estates	2
9350	Advanced Criminal Procedure	3
9360	Civil Liberties or Con Law: Free Speech	3
9370	Family Law	3
9342	Commercial Law: Secured Transactions	3
9332	Wealth Transfers	3
9383	Conflict of Laws	3

B. Academic Deficiency Resulting in Probation

A student in Baylor Law School will be placed on probation for academic reasons when, after all final grades for a quarter have been reported, the student's overall grade point average falls below a 1.90 on the 4.0 scale. At that time, a student may continue in school on probation, or may elect to withdraw immediately from school and return on the same probationary basis within three years.

C. Computation of Grade Point Average

In computing the grade point average of a student for the purpose of determining academic deficiency in a particular quarter:

- (1) All final letter grades earned in law school courses will be considered. Grade points are awarded for courses at the rate of A = 4.0, A- = 3.67, B+ = 3.33, B = 3, B- = 2.67, C+ = 2.33, C = 2, and D = 1 per credit hour. No credit is received for an F. A grade of Pass (P) is a neutral grade and does not affect the grade point total. While credit hours received in a course for which a P is recorded are counted toward the graduation total, they are not included in computing the grade point average.
- (2) The final grades received in the first two quarters will form the basis of the initial evaluation of a first-year student's academic sufficiency. Tentative grades received in Legal Analysis, Research & Communication (LARC): Introduction to Legal Writing will not be used in determining academic sufficiency until the grade is final.
- (3) No bonus grade points will be considered in determining academic sufficiency.
- (4) Grades received in repeated courses will be counted at the repeated letter grade value in determining compliance with the "C" average requirement for students on probation in Section D below; however, for purposes of calculating a cumulative grade point average, the repeated grade cannot be counted at a level higher than a "C".

D. Terms of Probation

The terms of probation are: (1) enrollment in a course of study of at least 12 credit hours approved by the Chair of the Academic Standards Committee; (2) maintenance of a "C" average (2.0 on the 4.0 scale) in courses taken in each probationary quarter until a graduation average of 2.0 for all work taken is attained; and (3) attainment of a graduation average within three quarters.

II. Dismissal by Reason of Breach of Probation

A probationary student notified of a failure to fulfill the terms of academic probation during a quarter will be immediately dismissed from school unless the student elects to stay the dismissal until that quarter's final examinations are completed. A student may wish to stay the dismissal until final examinations are completed as a demonstration of an ability to perform satisfactory law school work to assist any later petition for readmission. This option must be exercised within a reasonable time, normally three days. A tuition refund will be made only if the student is otherwise entitled to a tuition refund under the regular tuition refund policy of the Law School. In either case, whether effective immediately, or stayed until the end of the quarter, a dismissal for failure to fulfill the terms of academic probation is a permanent dismissal from the Law School.

III. Deficiency in English Resulting in Probation

If a student after admission to the Law School demonstrates an inadequate command of English, including a deficiency in spelling and grammar, the student may be placed on academic probation under the terms to be prescribed by the Faculty Academic Standards Committee.

IV. Petition to Review Dismissal

A student dismissed for academic deficiency may, within one year, petition the Dean and faculty of the law school for readmission on probation. The decision to grant a petition for readmission is solely within the discretion of the Dean and faculty and may contain such conditions and/or qualifications as are deemed appropriate. The student may not be readmitted to the Law School unless two full quarters have elapsed while the dismissal was in effect. If the student elects, however, to stay dismissal until finals are completed and when grades are announced, the student's overall grade point average is raised to a graduation average, the student may be readmitted to the next beginning quarter. The petition should be submitted at least four weeks prior to the end of the quarter preceding the quarter to which readmission is sought to give the Dean and faculty sufficient time to consider the petition. For example, to illustrate the timing of a petition for readmission, a student who is dismissed after receiving grades on the winter quarter, who does not elect to complete the spring quarter, may petition for readmission beginning with the fall quarter and not later than the next spring quarter.

The petitioner has the burden of establishing to the satisfaction of the Dean and faculty that there is a significant probability that the petitioner will achieve and thereafter maintain a graduation average if readmitted on probation. A petition for readmission should be directed to the Chair of the Academic Standards Committee. The petition should set forth, in letter form, the following information: (i) an explanation of the perceived reasons for the applicant's academic dismissal; (ii) an explanation of the applicant's activities during the period of dismissal; and (iii) an explanation of why the applicant expects to be able to correct prior academic deficiencies if readmitted on probation.

V. Student's Responsibility to Monitor Status

These rules of academic probation and dismissal are automatically applicable whether or not the student receives any form of notice. It is the student's responsibility to determine his or her status based upon this policy and the grades earned by the student. An attempt will be made to notify a student of the his or her status under the rules, but the notification is given only as a courtesy and a student is not entitled to receive any such notice. Receipt of any notice does not assure that any further notices be sent. Grades for a particular quarter may not be available until a substantial time after the beginning of the following quarter. Thus, any courtesy notice of academic deficiency and probation or dismissal, if sent at all, will usually not be sent until later in the quarter in which this status is determined. Therefore, each student is solely responsible for continuously updating his or her grade point average as individual grades become available and is solely responsible for determining his or her status under these rules. When it appears that an academic deficiency either exists or might exist, the student should immediately contact the Chair of the Academic Standards Committee. The fact that grades may not be available for a substantial time poses a particular difficulty for the student who is on probation, in that the student will not know whether the terms of probation have been met until well into the following quarter.

NOTE: The Chair of the Academic Standards Committee is Associate Dean Wilson (Room 219; 710-1911.)

HONOR CODE
BAYLOR UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW

PREAMBLE

Baylor University School of Law (the "Law School") students must act in academic matters with the utmost honesty and integrity and in a manner consistent with this Honor Code ("Code"). This Code specifies the conduct that violates this obligation and establishes a process for dealing with breaches of the Code.

ARTICLE I. SCOPE OF THE CODE

A. This Code applies to any alleged incident of misconduct related to any academic matter involving the Law School's program of education, regardless of where such alleged incident occurred.

B. "Academic matter" includes any activity that may affect a grade or in any way contribute toward satisfaction of the requirements for graduation or that may result in academic credit or recognition. Such activities include, but are not limited to, examinations, research for course papers, independent studies, or projects and performance of requirements in connection with externships and clinical courses, Law Review, or interscholastic competitions (for the purposes of this Code, this non-exclusive list of activities is included within the term "course").

C. This Code is not intended to replace or supersede applicable federal and state laws, municipal ordinances, Baylor University or Law School regulations or Law School Library or Career Development Office internal rules governing conduct of law students not involving an academic matter as defined above, provided, however, that this Code will be presumed applicable where no other procedure is available to address the alleged misconduct.

ARTICLE II. STUDENT MISCONDUCT

Student misconduct in connection with any academic matter covered by this Code includes, but is not limited to:

A. In connection with any examination, test, quiz, class performance or other assessment, whether or not graded:

1. Substituting for another student or permitting any other person to substitute for oneself to take the examination or perform other work relating to the examination.

2. Copying from or looking upon another student's examination paper during an examination with the intent to obtain information relevant to the examination or intentionally permitting another student to see and copy from one's examination paper.

3. Collaborating during the examination with any other person by giving or receiving information without authority.

4. Using material during an examination not authorized by the person administering the examination.

5. Taking time beyond that allowed other students for the completion of an examination without the express permission of the person administering the examination.

6. Divulging in a systematic and coordinated way, during or after the exam, the contents of an essay or objective examination where the instructor has stated that the contents of the examination are not to be divulged, until such time as the instructor releases the examination.

7. Invading or attempting to invade the security measures maintained for the preparation and storage of examinations.

8. Stealing, buying, otherwise obtaining, selling, giving away, or bribing another person to obtain all or part of an unadministered examination or information about an unadministered examination or an examination which is to remain confidential or any unauthorized information concerning an examination.

9. Failing to inform the Dean or the appropriate faculty member of the fact that one has come in contact, through no fault of the student, with an unadministered examination, or an examination which is to remain confidential, or any unauthorized information concerning an examination, after becoming aware of the fact that the material involved is confidential.

B. In connection with any report, paper, memorandum, article, brief or any other written work in fulfillment of academic requirements or to directly or indirectly obtain academic credit or recognition:

1. Submitting as one's own written work prepared totally or in part by another person, unless such collaboration is expressly authorized by the instructor, provided that, unless all discussion is expressly prohibited by the instructor, merely discussing the subject matter generally with another student is not a violation of this Code.

2. Submitting a writing incorporating another person's work, whether copyrighted or not, by taking the substance of such work or the literal expression from such work of another without acknowledging and crediting the original author's work with quotation marks and footnotes or other appropriate written explanation.

3. Submitting written work previously offered by the student for credit or recognition in another course or program without the instructor's permission secured in advance of submission.

C. In general:

1. Failing, upon witnessing or learning of the probable violation of this Code, to report the fact immediately to the Dean or a member of the faculty.
2. Refusing to provide information about a possible violation of this Code to faculty or administration of the Law School, except that a person suspected of violating this Code may not be compelled to bear witness against himself or herself.
3. Taking, keeping, misplacing, tampering with, or damaging the property of Baylor University, a faculty member, another student or any other person, if one knows or should reasonably know that one would by such conduct obtain an unfair academic advantage. This section is intended to include, but not be limited to, material in the law library.
4. Misrepresenting facts about oneself or another for the purpose of obtaining an advantage, either academic or financial, or for the purpose of injuring another student academically or financially, including providing false grades or other information in resumes for placement use.
5. Knowingly or negligently submitting false or misleading information concerning hours worked or requirements fulfilled in connection with any externship or clinical program undertaken for credit or recognition.
6. Acting contrary to accepted principles of honesty in any academic pursuit, it being recognized that no enumeration can exhaust the possible applications of a law student's obligation to conduct himself or herself in a manner consistent with the Code and that the enumeration above is by way of illustration and not limitation, provided, however, that if at all possible one or more of the enumerated sections should be utilized rather than this general provision.

ARTICLE III. Procedures for Addressing Suspected Honor Code Violations

- A. Faculty Determination of a Violation. If a faculty member suspects that a student has violated this Code in a course for which that faculty member is an instructor of record or in any other aspect of the Law School's program of education for which the faculty member is responsible, the faculty member must handle the matter directly with the student and should resolve the matter within 21 days of learning of the possible violation. If the faculty member determines that a violation has occurred, the faculty member must report in writing the violation and any sanction imposed to the Dean or the Dean's designee or designees within 7 days of the faculty member's determination that the student violated this Code. If the faculty member finds the student did not violate this Code, the matter is closed and no report to the Dean or the Dean's designee or designees is required.
- B. Opportunity to be Heard. A faculty member must provide a student who is suspected of a violation of this Code an opportunity to be heard on the matter in-person, telephonically, via videoconference, or in writing. The student may also present any relevant evidence to the faculty member, including written material and witnesses with knowledge of relevant facts. Students have these same rights in all appeals under this Code.
- C. Sanctions. Upon determining that a student has violated this Code, the faculty member may impose sanctions short of suspension or expulsion which may include but are not limited to reducing the grade or assigning a failing grade for the assignment connected to the violation of this Code and/or reducing the grade or assigning a failing grade for the course in which the violation occurred. The Dean or the Dean's designee(s) may impose sanctions in addition to those imposed by a faculty member, which may include but are not limited to suspension or expulsion.

D. Repeated Violations. Repeated violations of this Code are to be considered in determining an appropriate sanction.

E. Appeal. A student may appeal in writing a faculty member's determination of a violation of this Code to the Dean or the Dean's designee or designees. A student may also appeal in writing a suspension or expulsion decision to the Academic Standards Committee less any members designated by the Dean to make the initial suspension or expulsion decision.
